ADMIRAL WHO CRITICIZED NAVY IS DISCIPLINED

Magruder Relieved
of His Command.

Philadelphia, Pa., Oct. 25.—[Special.]—Rear Admiral Thomas P. Magruder, center of a spirited controversy since publication last month of his magazine article on "The Navy and Economy," was notified by Secretary Wilbur tonight that he had been detached from duty as commandant of the Fourth Naval district and of the Philadelphia navy yard, effective Nov. 5. He was ordered to report in Washington as soon as he has been relieved. The order received at the navy yard this afternoon read as follows:

"Upon reporting relief on or about Nov. 5, Rear Admiral Thomas P. Magruder detached duty as commandant Fourth Naval district and from such other duty as may have been assigned to him. Proceed to Washington and report to the secretary of the navy for duty. SECRETARY OF THE NAVY."

Brands It an Insult.

Admiral Magruder described the telegram as an "insult," according to naval traditions. It was sent as a "priority message" and was not addressed to him personally, but to the commandant, Fourth Naval district, which he considered another slight. "Such summary relief from duty" was, he felt, a carefully calculated and well placed "slap."

Pressed to discuss the order further, he asked for time to "cool off" and think it over before making any statements.

"I hate to leave Philadelphia," he said. "I have been here sixteen months. In that time I have come to love the city and its people. Really, I feel this thing keenly."

Fight in the Office.

"My mother was a Kildare, my father's name was Magruder and my hair is red," he said when he was asked if he would "fight charges."

"I have not gone yet," he replied rather cryptically to a question of his probable date of departure.

He was visibly affected by his summary recall. When he spoke of his being treated like a bad boy it was obvious that he could scarcely control himself.

Admiral Magruder first read the message of recall a few hours before delivering a radio talk on "Navy Day" and at the conclusion of the speech he alluded to his feelings toward Philadelphia. None of his unseen audience knew what it all was about, but the veteran officer was singing his "swan song" to Philadelphia.

Admiral Magruder has been in active naval service for 36 years. He was second in command of American naval forces in European waters during the world war, receiving the distinguished service medal for his services.

Opportunity to Explain.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 25.—[Special.]—Secretary of the Navy Wilbur admitted today that Rear Admiral Thomas P. Magruder has been ordered to leave his post at Philadelphia and report to him in Washington the first week in November. The secretary declined, however, to state whether the order means that Admiral Magruder will be forced to face a court of inquiry.

It is understood here that Admiral Magruder will be given an opportunity to explain his published charges that the "navy is overorganized and run on wasteful lines" when he reaches the capital. Secretary Wilbur said today that the full correspondence between the department and Admiral Magruder will be made public tomorrow.

Officials Unimpressed.

According to information made public here, Admiral Magruder was given three opportunities to satisfactorily explain "insinuations," which appeared in his published article. His answers, it was said, have failed to impress Secretary Wilbur and other high officials of the department.

Immediately after the article was published, Secretary Wilbur called upon the admiral to submit his plan for reorganization of the navy along the lines suggested in his article. Magruder replied that he had no plan "at that time."

Magruder charged that the navy supported too many admirals and too few enlisted men, was tied up with red tape, was overorganized ashore and afloat, had too many naval stations on the Atlantic coast, and was run on uneconomical lines. He asserted that many of the navy yards along the Atlantic coast could be discontinued and would be if it were not for the political influences.

AN ENLIGHTENED CONCEPTION OF COLLEGE

President Max Mason would do away with the thought of compulsion in college life.

And emphasize the idea of "golden opportunity."

Third Woman
Polls Official
Gets Cell Term

Mrs. Frances Baroch, 58 and white haired, was sentenced to a year in the county jail yesterday by County Judge Edmund K. Jarocki. As a judge at the polls of the 15th precinct of the 42d ward, she swore to a false return, the court found, and she was sentenced for contempt of court.

The defendant fanned herself nervously as the judge announced his decision. Otherwise she showed no emotion until her attorney, Tyrrell R. Richardson, told the court it was her second tragedy of the day. A nephew, Howard Spencer, 4 years old, died before the court hearing. Judge Jarocki requested the sheriff to permit her to remain at home under guard until after the child's funeral.

Other Two Freed by Writ.

Mrs. Baroch was the third woman to be found guilty of election frauds within two days. But while she was being sentenced, the other two, Mrs. Tina Wortman, 1400 South Halsted street, and Mrs. Leona Coine, 1341 South Halsted street, obtained bail of $5,000 each on a writ of habeas corpus.

Hearing on the habeas corpus petition was assigned by Chief Justice William V. Brothers to Judge Stanley Klarkowski, who is engaged in the Lefty Lewis trial. Judge Klarkowski granted bail to the women and then continued the hearing until Nov. 5, although Special Prosecutor Grover C. Niemeyer said such delays in habeas corpus proceedings were frowned upon by the Illinois Supreme court.

The habeas corpus petition attacked for the first time the right of women to serve as election officials. Because the two women are not proper appointees, the petition held, they are not under the jurisdiction of Judge Jarocki.

Jeweler Also Found Guilty.

Convicted with Mrs. Baroch, who resides at 1145 North Franklin street, was August Bellasza, a middle aged jeweler of 309 West Division street. Attorney Richardson argued in his defense that their appearance in court, whereas the other three officials at the precinct's polls are fugitives, was indicative of their innocence of participating in irregularities.

"They were the innocent tools of professional, corrupt politicians," he said.

"They were guilty either of intentional fraud or of carelessness so gross as to be criminal negligence," the prosecutor retorted.

"Yes," the court responded, "they assumed an obligation imposed by law when they accepted positions as election officials. They failed to fulfill this obligation and the law imposes a penalty."

This is a ghastly case because the fraud is supposed to have been committed by outside manipulators and other officials not arrested. Some one knows who they are but now they seem to be hiding behind these defendants.

LOWDEN'S SISTER,
INJURED BY AUTO,
REPORTED BETTER

Seattle, Wash., Oct. 25.—[Special.]—Mrs. H. Sammis, 60, sister of former Gov. Frank O. Lowden of Illinois, who was struck down and seriously injured by an automobile last night, has excellent chances for recovery, physicians said today. It was feared at first she had received fatal injuries. Mrs. Sammis, a widow, has resided in Seattle for several years.

Police arrested Charles Ward, a serving machine salesman, as driver of the car. He has served time here for driving while drunk, and three times has been found guilty of being intoxicated. He is in the city jail pending the filing of charges by the prosecuting attorney.

Mrs. Sammis suffered a fractured pelvic bone, possibly a fractured skull, and internal injuries.

Auto Crash Hurts Husband,
Breaks Up Her Home

Mrs. Betty L. Bergstrom of 4325 Winthrop avenue, having received a telephone call that her estranged husband, Carl, injured during an automobile accident, was in a serious condition in an apartment at 123 Windsor avenue, hurried to the address, she opened her testimony yesterday before Superior Judge Joseph Sabath.

"I found him, injured, in bed," she continued. "Sitting beside the bed, was a young woman, holding his right hand. My husband introduced me as his cousin. And he introduced her as his wife."

Judge Sabath indicated she will receive a divorce.

Still on Cedar Street.

The still, an alcohol cooking outfit, was secreted in a garage in the rear of 80 East Cedar street. Fred C. Inman, proprietor of a rooming house at that address, told Capt. James Fleming of the East Chicago avenue station he had rented the place to two men, who told him they were contractors, six months ago. He said he only knew one of the men and knew him only as "Bob." Inman denied he was aware a still was in operation. He and his wife were questioned for several hours and finally released. He said the man paid him a rental of $70 a month for the garage.

The explosion occurred shortly after 3 p. m. Inman was in the kitchen of his home and several pieces of brick struck him on the head, causing two slight wounds. Mollie Stevens, 69 years old, a servant in the home of Mrs. R. C. Newman, 64 East Cedar street, was knocked against a wall by the force of the explosion. Mrs. Newman ran to a telephone and called the fire department.

Windows in the home of Raemund Baumann, Danish consul, 54 E. Cedar street, were shattered. Women employed there fled to the street to safety and were followed by many others living in the immediate neighborhood.

The still was about two blocks from the Drake hotel and directly across the street is the home of Mrs. Howard Linn. A few doors west at 25 East Cedar street reside the Prince and Princess Michael Caesarene, Dr. John McKinlock, Mrs. Benjamin Carpenter, Henry Gross, Charles McKenna, P. R. Magnusson, and Malone Ramsar. Other neighbors are Samuel Insull, E. C. Brownlee, A. D. Erskine, Mrs. St. Clair Eastman, C. I. Sturgis, and H. Chapin.

1,600 Aboard;
720 Saved on Brazil Coast

BULLETIN.

RIO DE JANEIRO, Oct. 25.—[AP.]—According to a wireless message from one of the ships which went to the rescue of the foundered Italian liner Principessa Mafalda, an explosion caused the sinking.

BULLETIN.

RIO DE JANEIRO, Oct. 25.—[AP.]—Of the 720 passengers saved from the Italian steamship Principessa Mafalda the French steamer Formosa picked up 120, the British steamer Empire Star rescued 200, and the German steamer Athena accounted for 400. The British steamer Radioline also assisted in the rescue work.

BULLETIN.

RIO DE JANEIRO, Oct. 25.—[AP.]—The Principessa Mafalda, luxurious Italian liner en route from Genoa to this port and Buenos Aires, foundered and sank tonight about 130 miles southeast the port of Bahia, Brazil, presumably with a large loss of life.

The liner carried 1,600 passengers, many of them emigrants to Argentina, and, while hundreds were rescued by the heroic efforts of the crews of four ships which answered the Mafalda's frantic wireless calls for aid sent out at 7:15 p. m. it is believed many of the steerage passengers went down with the ship.

Many of the passengers took to lifeboats and rafts and some went overboard in life preservers.

Wireless reports received by the Brazilian government from rescue ships at the scene of the Principessa Mafalda disaster indicated that only 720 of the Italian liner's 1,600 passengers had been accounted for tonight. These passengers were saved by the French ship Formosa.

The minister of the navy ordered the cruiser Rio Grande do Sul to proceed immediately to the scene and assist in the work of rescue.

More than seven years ago the Principessa Mafalda, while en route from Buenos Aires to Italy, was reported to have struck a mine and sunk with the loss of 700 lives. The report proved erroneous.

The vessel was built in 1908 and during the war was used as a troopship by the Italian government. Its dimensions are 485.2 feet long and 55.6 feet wide. Its tonnage was given as 9,210.

MAYOR PULLS BRANDED BOOKS FROM BURNING

Declares He Never Ordered Torch.

While Mayor Thompson yesterday entered a vigorous denial that he had ordered the burning of library books, his bawling of the British crown brought down upon his forces volleys of criticism.

The mayor first denied authorship of the bonfire scheme for ridding the library of pro-British propaganda through John G. Drennan, assistant corporation counsel, Drennan appeared before Judge Ira Ryner in a hearing on a petition for an injunction to restrain Thompson and his library lieutenant, U. J. (Sport) Herrmann, from burning the pro-British volumes.

Thompson is crawling in an attempt to whitewash himself. Attorney Stanley T. Rywniak, representing Edward J. Bohac in the petition, charged after the hearing. "Public sentiment is aroused against him." The hearing was continued for one week.

Charges Refuting of Issue.

Later in the day the mayor made public a letter he had sent to Drennan explaining that "pro-British forces" are attempting to befog the American First issue by the bonfire talk. He inclosed the letter which designated Sport Herrmann investigator of the library, and pointed out that there was no mention of what disposition should be made of the books when they are discovered.

It was made clear during the day that while the mayor's letter to Mr. Herrmann contained no mention of book burning, Mr. Herrmann himself had taken the initiative in the burning project by suggesting such an action and by burning last Monday a volume of history which he purchased for that purpose.

Another how was turned on the bonfire when Jail Warden Edward Fogarty said he would refuse to touch a match to the pyre in his capacity of public hangman. It had been announced that this procedure would be followed.

Fyffe Voices Some Doubts.

That even the investigation of library books may be slowed up was regarded as a possibility last night when Colin C. H. Fyffe, general counsel of the Illinois Manufacturers' association and a member of the library committee entrusted with the inspection, indicated he might lead a revolt. "I'll do what I please about the books," Mr. Fyffe declared. Asked what disposition should be made of suspected volumes, Mr. Fyffe said: "What books? Do you mean those in some out of the way hidden places where they have been put by some spy seeking the downfall of Chicago? I would take them out and read them. My own belief is that there are no such books."

No book has ever been put in the library for any wrong purpose and every one in town knows it. All the books are approved by the librarians and authorized by the board of directors following the same procedure used throughout the country."

Dean's Approve of Wire Cope.

Mr. Fyffe ridiculed the proposal of Head Librarian Carl E. Roden that the traitorous volumes should be segregated in a wire cage for the use of only recognized historians who might show some reason for wanting to use them. This is the method in the Congressional library in Washington, Mr. Roden said.

"Do they put books in a cage to keep the representatives and senators from being contaminated?" Mr. Fyffe asked. "That's a good idea. It ought to be done in Springfield."

He will also fight the bonfire plan, he said.

"Why," he declared, "if you put two men of opposing opinions to work burning books which conflict with their ideas you can reduce the size of the library to nothing in no time."

"But I am willing to be shown any thing in the world. If anybody told me a man had been murdered in my office in the last five minutes I would help try to find the body."

Seldenberg States Views.

The Rev. Frederick Seldenberg, president of Loyola university and another member of the investigating committee, declared he had an open mind on the book question, but added, "I am a priest and do not want to become involved in politics. It appears that this book situation has political aspects."

Sport Herrmann said that the meeting of the committee yesterday was called off because Dr. Preston Bradley, its chairman, was out of the city. He said he will try to get the members together Saturday.

"The people who were supposed to give me a list of the pro-British books haven't done yet, and if they don't do it soon I will go over to the library and find them myself," Herrmann announced.

More Charges for McAndrew.
Tom Sullivan of Minneapolis, who stumped for Thompson in the mayoralty campaign, said that two more charges would be filed against him. William McAndrew, in addition to the original charge of insubordination, the suspended school chief already faces sixteen other allegations of being a minion of King George.

The new charges, Sullivan said, will set forth that McAndrew failed to appear at certain meetings of school committees while Charles M. McAndrew was president of the school board and that he approved the use of textbooks in which Chicago public school teachers were financially interested.

Although the McAndrew trial is scheduled to be resumed this afternoon, it is regarded as likely that a session of the school board is to be held at the same time.

Ald. McKinley Says "War."
The first attack from a city council member on Mayor Thompson's America First campaign was made yesterday by Ald. Donald S. McKinley, who announced that he will protest the investigation and burning of the library books at the next council meeting.

"I presume that the mayor and his chief of staff, Sport Herrmann, have recently been reading the 'Life of Nero' and have become enthused over the spectacle of the burning of books," McKinley said. "The present fire commissioner was appointed by Mayor Thompson, and I suppose it will be his duty to extinguish the fire as soon as they are started."

"It may be that when the declaration of war with England is read from the steps of the burning library building, our mayor will thereby be nominated as the Republican candidate for President of the United States. Stranger things have happened."

Asks Right to Read Books.
"I trust that the library board will afford members of the city council an opportunity to read the guilty volumes before consigning them to the flames. I might also ask that Mr. Herrmann should dynamite the library building and blow it up, the job of destruction will be easier and it would give Jack Coth's son a quicker opportunity to get the contract to build a new one."

"In the meantime I wish the mayor would try to settle some of Chicago's real problems. He has the power and opportunity to do so, if he will turn his attention to this city and not get so frightened about international affairs."

Two historians, William H. Mace of Syracuse university, and Arthur M. Schlesinger of Harvard, replied hotly to the charges of un-Americanism brought against their books by former Congressman John J. Gorman, the mayor's textbook expert. Gorman is now the defendant in a $100,000 libel suit brought by one historian, David Saville Murray of Columbia.

Historian's Reply to Gorman.
"I do not like to take part in a sham battle staged by glibhouse patriots, but if there is any sober minded person who takes Gorman's charges seriously, let me advise him to read for himself the book to which Gorman objects," said Historian Schlesinger. "No history yet published gives so much space to the epidemic contributions of the non-English groups in the building of America."

"The quotations which he terms pro-British are gross distortions of the ac-

MRS. GRAYSON AND PILOT DIFFERED AND THE AIRMAN WON

Old Orchard, Me., Oct. 25.—(AP)—Although Mrs. Frances Grayson is nominal commander of her trans-Atlantic air expedition it became known to-night that Pilot Winmer Stiles took command of the amphibious plane Essex after its take-off for Copenhagen last Sunday and forced a return trip to Old Orchard.

None of the three persons who were on board the Essex at the time would make detailed statements as to what occurred, but discrepancies in their several stories indicated clearly that there was a decided difference of opinion. It became known that the pilot had piloted his greater experience against the eagerness of his employer, and won the argument.

Although Stiles, in describing the flight after his return on Sunday, said the first indication of trouble came when the left motor began backfiring, on various occasions since he has admitted that he felt it was hopeless to hold the heavily loaded plane at sufficient altitude to fly in the fog which the party encountered.

tual passages and could have been made only with the purpose of deceiving the public about present affairs as he would have the historians deceive them about the past.

"Another protector of pseudo-Americanism," Mace wrote of Gorman, "I challenge him to point out, by page and paragraph in Mace's school history or in the Mac-Bogardus history, any statement that may be decidedly pro-British in order that the citizens of Chicago may judge for themselves. I have been pronounced unfair to the British in my histories. I am a member of the Sons of the American Revolution."

Members of the Traffic club, meeting at the Palmer house, memorialized their officers to cooperate with other agencies in investigating "the rumors that the schools are politically corrupt." The present school regime and Thompson's war on King George were ridiculed and condemned in speeches by Mr. McAndrew, Mr. Grace Temple, former school trustee, and Joseph K.

ANTI-GERMAN BOOKS OPPOSED IN MILWAUKEE

Milwaukee, Wis., Oct. 25.—(Special.)—Mayor William Hale Thompson's crusade against all literature avowedly of the British lion may be re-enforced by the enrollment of Milwaukee recruits to the cause. Attorney J. P. Beucher, former president of the Muehlenberg unit of the Stephen Society of America, who charges that pro-British and anti-German textbooks are being used in the Milwaukee public schools, will lead the fight.

At the next meeting of the Muehlenberg unit, Mr. Beucher says he will introduce a resolution asking that the organization "take such means as it deems advisable to get rid of the literature."

Clips German Population.
In including the alleged anti-German books in its campaign, the local unit has outlined for itself a proposition that is difficult, Mr. Beucher admitted. He said, however, that "one-half of the population of Milwaukee is composed of Americans of German blood and they wish to make an emphatic protest against any literature disparaging to their ancestors."

One of the books which Mr. Beucher decries is used as a textbook in history in the seventh and eighth grades of the public schools. It is

One Passage He Protests.
Mr. Beucher voices objection to the following passages on page 519 of this book, under the caption, "The Lesson of Belgium":

"Belgium was attacked in cold blood, in spite of treaties written for the special purpose of defending her and signed by Germany. Old men and women were shot down in the streets of the Belgian towns. Children were murdered. Houses were burned. Able-bodied men and women were carried away into slavery in Germany."

In another paragraph concerning the sinking of the Lusitania, the history states:

"Among these [the victims] were 114 American citizens, whose lives were thus taken by Germany, which professing to be at peace with the United States and whose subjects, by millions, had found in America a happiness and prosperity denied them at home. A wave of horror swept around the world and most Americans who had not been convinced upon the merits of the war by the destruction of Belgium now saw Germany in a new and ghastly light."

What To Do When Children Can't Sleep

Many a mother knows that you can put a child to bed—but you cannot make him sleep!

Restlessness at bedtime—and later on in the night—is often caused by an over-tired little body, worn out by the day's hard play.

Assuming, of course, that the child is not ill or in pain—but merely restless—an easily assimilated, nourishing, hot food-drink usually makes the "sand-man" come a-running.

Try a hot or cold TODDY. It digests easily and nourishes tired nerves—brings restful sleep. And while the child sleeps, TODDY continues its restorative work—helps Nature rebuild the tired body.

TODDY, made with milk, is rich in all the elements so essential to health and growth—carbohydrates, proteins and mineral salts; valuable enzymes and vitamins.

Especially in the very small hours—use hot TODDY to quiet the wakeful little one. Mixed in a minute—no fuss or muss. And any child will drink it gladly.

Grown-ups, too—whose nerves are frayed from a hard day at business or house-work—will find hot TODDY the ideal "night-cap."

Your grocer sells Toddly in 1/2 lb., 1 lb. and 2 lb. cans for handy use. (The 2 lb. home-size can costs less per pound than the smaller sizes. Insist that your grocer order it for you if he does not stock it now.) Malto, Inc., Food Specialists, Buffalo, N. Y.

SPECIAL OFFER

Children and grown-ups enjoy mixing their own cold, creamy TODDY in a real shaker.

A seamless aluminum shaker (regular retail value 50c) a liberal sample of TODDY and a "Kiddee Sport Hat" will be mailed you for 25 cents in stamps, coin or check. Write Malto, Inc., Dept. K, Buffalo, N. Y.

DOCTORS' BOOZE ORDERS WANING, DRUGGIST SAYS

Offers That as Reason for Cutting Tax.

Liquor prescription business is on the wane, druggists told Charles V. Barrett, member of the board of review, yesterday in appealing for reductions in their personal property assessments. Bootleggers, peddling emulated wet goods or imitations, are cutting in on the trade so that the druggists filling doctors' orders are not as wealthy as last year and hence, they argue, don't have as much personal property subject to assessment.

Druggists, grocers, bakers, laborers, bankers, clerks are marching through the board of review chambers in the county building at the rate of $60 a day while the three members of the board, Mr. Barrett, Edward R. L. Singer, and William H. Weber, give personal attention to their complaints against the tax assessors' figures. Approximately 70,000 cases are to be heard before the tax roll is sent to the county treasurer.

Drug Store Man Complains.

In the line before Mr. Barrett yesterday was a young Italian from the west side, owner of a small drug store on Madison street.

"You think $2,000 is too high?" the board member asked. "But what of your liquor business?"

"It's rotten," was the outspoken reply. "I don't even bother to get a government permit. Prescription business is not what it used to be. Drinkers get their booze now without coughing at a doctor's office."

"Well, perhaps $2,000 is pretty high for a drug store that doesn't have liquor," Barrett said, cutting the figure in half.

Behind the druggist in the line was an aged Negro. It was a case where taxation can be tempered with mercy and Barrett wiped out the $300 assessment after the complainant told of being a bachelor with an income of only $30 a week.

Would Like to Pay.

"We haven't the heart to levy against the bed, dishes and stove that are a poor man's only belongings," the board member explained.

Following the Negro was a young woman of precise dress and manner. Mr. Barrett glanced at her assessor's notice, raising his eyebrows at the address, that of a large residence on Lake Shore drive.

"Surely you can't complain about paying on a valuation of $3,000 on the furnishings of this home?" the tax expert inquired.

"I'd be glad to," she smiled sociably. "Then why are you here?"

"I don't own the furnishings; I'm the nurse."

"Oh," and Barrett cancelled that assessment.

The next customer was a small grocer. His story was brief. He had moved from Cook county.

Thus the line kept moving through out the day, and thus it will continue to move for weeks more before the board of review has completed its work, started this week.

RETURNED ON CHECK CHANGE.

James S. McQuinn, 34, of 6940 South Park avenue, arrested at Milwaukee, was brought to Chicago last night following his confession that he passed a worthless check for $65 on a Great Atlantic and Pacific Store at 651 South Park avenue.

IDENTIFIED AS FUR BANDIT, THEN DIES OF BULLET WOUND

Shortly before his death last night at the University hospital from a bullet wound in the abdomen, Walter Needs, 29, of 4329 Broadway, was identified as a fur thief by Policeman Frank Vratil of Berwyn, and two Chicago furriers.

According to Vratil, Needs was one of three men surprised early Monday morning in the act of looting the Chicago Fur company at 6349 West 23d street, Berwyn. The trio fled at the policeman's approach. Vratil fired five shots at the men. Samuel Rawitch and Joseph Rose of the Harry Rawitch Fur company, 3408 West Roosevelt road, told police that Needs was a member of a bandit gang that held up the store Oct. 1, lined up nine employees, and escaped with garments worth $15,000.

Vivian Lewis, 22, an attractive brunette, is being sought as an accomplice of Needs. The girl was alone with Needs in a flat Monday when Dr. Lester I. Ofner, 1608 West Madison street, came in response to a call. "Someone plugged Dutch," she told the doctor and then vanished. Needs was arrested last May charged with having participated in the theft of more than 100 automobiles.

GEN. SCHWENGEL, AGAIN OPERATED UPON, IMPROVES

For the second time this year, Brig. Gen. Frank R. Schwengel, commander of the 15th Field artillery brigade of the Illinois National Guard, is a patient at St. Joseph's hospital following an emergency abdominal operation performed Monday by Dr. Karl A. Meyer. Gen. Schwengel was reported to be improving late last night after his condition had been pronounced critical during the afternoon. Dr. Meyer summoned three other physicians to a conference over the patient. They are Drs. Morris Hilt, A. B. Kanavel, and R. W. McNealy. Although only 43 years old, Gen. Schwengel has been a member of the guard for 25 years, having enlisted at the age of 17 in Troop I of the old First Illinois cavalry. In civilian life he has been connected with the advertising firm of Lord, Thomas & Logan of which A. D. Lasker, is the owner. He was cited for bravery during the world war. At his bedside last night was his wife, Mrs. Myrtle Sanderson Schwengel, who was called from their home at 646 Waveland avenue.

WITNESS SAYS GRAFT RATE ON WINE ADVANCED

Waters Owen Appointed Friendly Snoopers.

Payment of more than $100,000 in graft was advanced yesterday by witnesses in the trial of State Senator Lowell Mason at Oak Park and Maj. Percy Owen, former prohibition director, before Federal Judge Walter C. Lindley. The government accuses them of bribery and extortion in connection with the sacramental wine industry.

The government charges that money was collected from the Jewish congregations, entitled to ten gallons a year per person, at the rate of $300 per permit for each congregation early in 1926. According to various witnesses this rate was raised to $400 later in that year. It was testified that if the money was not paid the permits would be delayed.

Says He Paid Ralph Stone.
Irving S. Friedman, a distributor for a wholesale wine house, testified he paid Ralph Stone, former prohibition administrator who had gone into the wine business, about $20,000 from May to August, 1924. From January to May of that year Friedman said he paid $10,000 to Louis Abelson, former liquor dealer, for permits.

Abelson, who had an office at 10 North Clark street, testified that he operated through Harry R. Schlaus, prohibition owner and co-defendant with Owen and Mason, who testified that he had paid Owen $6,250 in fees. Abelson said he had never met Owen and never heard his name used in connection with these transactions.

Abelson said he selected the two inspectors for sacramental wine who worked out of Owen's office, and that he had collected $10,000 during three months of 1924, half of which was turned over to Schlaus, but he said he kept $10,000 himself. He testified that the learned later other agents were in the field and he was informed that he was through as a go-between.

Another Involves Abelson.
It was about this time that the case of Stone began to come into the testimony. Frank Loveland, former representative of California wine men, who dealt with Abelson in getting permits through, that he refused to collect the $300 payments himself from his congregation customers, but sanctioned payments made to a man sent out by Abelson. He turned over about $100 to Abelson, he said. He added that later Schlaus in April, 1924, came to him and asked $5,000 for a "campaign contribution," which he refused to pay. Stone told him, he said, that he could fix it to get permits through for 5 cents a gallon instead of the 20 cents that had been the rate, but later said he could not do this and he would have to pay the old rate. He paid Stone about $4,500.

Charles W. Vursell, former chief enforcement officer, told of complaints that had come to him about the sacramental wine inspectors. He added that Maj. Owen promised an investigation. The agents were suspended, but later reinstated, he said. Other witnesses, Morris Severn and Irving Royack, told of paying graft. The former mentioned the late George Bruce, then a state legislator. The latter named Stone as a recipient.

Flames Damage Armour
Lard House in Stockyards
Flames yesterday threatened to destroy the Armour & Co. lard house at 43d and Cook street in the stockyards. Following an investigation, Division Fire Marshal John Costello said he believed the blaze was started by sparks from an acetylene torch in the lard room. He estimated the damage at $5,000.

CHIEF DRY SPY HELD ON CHARGE OF GIRL AGED 9

Arrest Followed by His Dismissal.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 25.—[Special.]—Treasury officials today ousted
William B. Robinson, chief investigator of the prohibition bureau, following the issuance of warrants by Maryland officials charging the dry ace with having committed statutory offenses against a 9 year old girl.

In the past dry officials have stood by dry agents accused of killings. But this procedure was not followed today.
Robinson was forced to resign and will be tried in the state courts of Maryland.

In Re-arrested.

Montgomery county police arrested
Robinson on Sunday at his home at Takoma Park and released him on bonds of $1,000. Yesterday, after State's Attorney Robert Peter Jr. had questioned the girl, another warrant was issued and Robinson again was arrested. This time his bond was set at $5,000 and a preliminary hearing set for next Monday in the Rockville police court. The offenses are alleged to have been committed during the last four months.

The name of the girl was not made public, but it was stated that her father is an army officer at the Walter Reed hospital. Robinson is a married man, 50 years old, and the father of two grown sons, one a West Point graduate and an army officer.

In Federal Service for Years.

During the last summer, it is alleged,
Robinson frequently took the little girl with her younger sister, 6 years old,
on automobile rides into the country.

TOLERANCE OUR GREATEST NEED, BANKERS TOLD

Traylor Talks on Many National Problems.

Houston, Tex., Oct. 25.—(AP)—What the country perhaps most needs, "individually and as a people, is a genuine revival of tolerance, a fresh baptism of faith—tolerance for the views and acts of others—a belief in something beyond ourselves and faith in the destiny of life."

Melvin A. Traylor of Chicago, president of the American Bankers' association, made this declaration here today in his address before 2,000 of the nation's bankers at the annual convention of the organization.

The president's annual address was the principal subject before the bankers' single session today. Group meetings, in conjunction with the convention, heard views on state income taxation, clearing house examinations, the bank deposit problem, and other questions of concern to the banking fraternity.

Discusses Many Subjects.

Among a wide range of subjects the president of the association discussed the Dawes plan, which, he said, most bankers in the beginning thought would fail, but who subsequently had witnessed vast sums being poured into Germany, foreign investments, which had become the concern of every banker and investor alike, whether it pleased them or not; relief for the farmer, the way to which had not yet appeared; the federal reserve act, which had been criticized, but which should not be fundamentally changed and which probably needed smoother administration and maybe strengthening reforms, at whom he aimed a good natured shaft, and taxes, about which he was not alarmed.

"To be sure," he said, discussing world relations to German finances, "the day may come when the interest payments required to be made by Germany on her foreign loans together with the payments required under the Dawes plan, may bring about a crisis in her financial affairs. But," he added, "if and when that time comes, the plan itself provides a method of procedure and it is reasonable to believe that the healing influence of peace and tranquility which in the meantime will ensue will make possible, in an atmosphere of justice and equity, an easy adjustment upon a basis fair to all."

Need of Farm Relief.

Turning to measures for farm relief, Mr. Traylor asserted that "justice demands more for those who produce without increased burdens on those who consume."

Mr. Traylor held the close attention of the bankers in discussing America's approximate twelve billion dollar private capital investments in foreign countries. Many bankers, he said, dismiss the subject with the thought that they neither originate nor participate in foreign loans and that it is Wall street's problem.

"Let me remind you, however," he said, "that it is daily brought to the doorstep of every banker and every investor in the country through the domestic sale of these securities to your depositories who are paying for them with deposits from your bank. Whether you will or not you are becoming interested in every venture, of whatever character and wherever in the world located, the securities of which are finding lodgment in your community and with your people.

"It is true," he said, discussing national safeguards in this connection, after outlining that the United States had loaned German interests more than a billion dollars and vast sums to interests in many other countries, "that the total of all these loans and investments is a mere bagatelle compared with the aggregate of American wealth, but unless human nature has changed, or effects a rapid transformation, I have an idea that there are hundreds of thousands of American citizens whose instinct of self preservation and whose sense of property rights may somewhat incline them to take heed of what is happening in the rest of the world."

"Not often have the property rights of our citizens been put in jeopardy by the action of foreign governments, but if we may judge by the reaction that has followed the attempt of our neighbor to the south in matters of this kind, we may well imagine that the day may come when no mere small fraction of our people will not only be interested in what is happening in other lands, but insisting upon our government likewise taking cognizance of such facts."

Mr. Traylor, however, was not opposed to foreign investments. Such a thought was farthest from his mind, he said, because being in reality the world's banker, "we must make for signs loans and investments, both for the preservation of our economic position and in justice and fairness to the rest of the world."

Discussing the federal reserve act, Mr. Traylor thought that nothing could be more unfortunate than "either agitation for or actual further legislation with respect to our banking system for some time to come, and most of all that anything should be done to change the fundamental structure of the federal reserve acts."

Turning to reformers, he thought them "the leaven of the loaf, the salt of the earth who save our body politic from deterioration," even though their experiments sometimes were merely stupid, many times just ludicrous and nearly always selfish. And yet, he said, to be doing fairly well and it seems to me that we may reasonably expect a continuance of "things as they are for some time to come."

Critics, he termed a splendid world influence, but he insisted that "we must never allow them to shake our faith in ourselves, in our fellow man or in our national destiny."

8 UNION CLERKS START TO SERVE CONTEMPT TERMS

Eight officials and members of the Retail Clerks union, who were sentenced to jail last fall by Judge Denis E. Sullivan of the Superior court for violating an injunction against picketing, gave up their fight yesterday after losing in the state Supreme court and surrendered to the sheriff's office. They immediately were placed in the custody of Warden Edward J. Fogarty of the county jail to serve their sentences. Harry Winnick, business agent, received the most severe sentence of 30 days and a fine of $200.

BROS
E OFFRIEND DENIES
HE URGED SON
TO KILL FATHERFaces Schumacher After
He Is Accused.

Face to face with his accuser at a hearing in a McHenry county cell, Charles Schumacher, 35 year old farm hand and foster brother of William Schumacher, 28, the slayer of his father, Christopher Schumacher, declared that William died yesterday when he supplemented his original confession with the statement that the murder was committed under the instigation of Schumacher.

Sheriff Cyrus Sanford took Schumacher into custody at the shack where he had lived with William previous to the shooting. He accompanied the sheriff back to town and not until he faced Schumacher was he told of the reason for his detention.

"I'm sorry, Bill," he said, "that you thought you'd have to connect me with this. You know it's not the way. I suppose you were sore because I couldn't verify your alibi. But I couldn't say anything but what actually happened."

Sheriff Doubts Son's Story.

The sheriff said he was inclined to believe Schumacher's assertion that he knew nothing of William's plans to murder his father. He pointed out that when Schumacher was asked, in Schumacher's presence, before the confession was made, if Schumacher had eaten supper at the shack on the night of the shooting, Schumacher said he had not. Schumacher evidently wanted him to confirm the story told investigators, Sanford said. That Schumacher done so the son's alibi would have been perfect and he might not have been suspected. If the men had planned the murder together, he believed, Schumacher would not have hesitated to vouch for Schumacher.

Schumacher, as an orphan boy of 12, was taken into his home by the slain man. For years he lived with them as a member of the Schumacher family, but was never adopted.

Claims Friend Urged Killing.

Schumacher in his new confession placed the blame for the killing on Schumacher's reports to him of conditions in the farmer's home.

"For two years Charlie kept talking to me about my father's treatment of my mother, of me and my eight brothers," said Schumacher. "He asked me why I didn't put the old man out of the way. Not just once or twice, but every time we met. He said it was nothing for me to shoot the old man and that everybody would help me if I did."

Schumacher added that during these conversations, while he was himself fearful, Schumacher kept suggesting to him that "it would look better for me to do it, as I was his son."

Continuing his story, the confessed murderer said that the farm hand gave him detailed advice on how to commit the homicide.

"Charlie told me not to shoot my father when just the two of us were alone," he stated. "He told me to take his gun and crawl into the cattle pen and shoot while the younger son, Chris and John, were with the old man. Many times he showed me how to do it. He put me in the hayloft and even pointed to a cow, the fifth in the milking line, and said I should fire when my father reached that spot. I did the shooting just the way he told me to."

Confesses Own Guilt.

Sheriff Sanford asked Schumacher, whose first story was that he had killed his parent because the latter was cruel to his mother, why he had failed to mention Schumacher before. He said he hadn't thought about it. He added that he had no ill will toward the farm hand.

"If you had never seen Schumacher you believe that you would not have fired on your father and he would be alive today?" the sheriff questioned.

"He would be alive today," said Schumacher. "I did it because of his constant suggestion that it was a duty to my mother and all of us to kill the old man. And I am sorry now I did it."

All South Chicago interests apparently got together last night behind Mayor Thompson's proposal to transform Lake Calumet into the world's largest inland harbor.

The citizens' committee, appointed by the mayor, organized at a meeting in the South Chicago club, 9140 Houston avenue, and prepared to draft a new harbor plan under an act, passed by the last legislature, providing for a special harbor tax fund of $4,000,000.

George W. Bolling, publisher of the Daily Calumet, was elected chairman of the committee and Clarence P. Bayne, business manager of the South End chamber of commerce, secretary.

CALL ROOSEVELT TO TESTIFY IN FALL OIL TRIAL

Colonel Snubs Sinclair
Lawyer in Court.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
Washington, D. C., Oct. 25.—[Special.]—Col. Theodore Roosevelt, former assistant secretary of the navy, probably will be the government's principal witness in the Teapot Dome oil conspiracy trial tomorrow. Col. Roosevelt, anxious to deny from the witness stand that he was responsible for the secret which shrouded the dealings of Albert B. Fall, former secretary of the interior, with Harry F. Sinclair, New York oil millionaire, appeared on the scene today.

Promises of a thrilling battle to come when he is subjected to cross-examination was given as the colonel, on his way to the court room, met with Martin W. Littleton, chief of defense counsel. There never has been any love lost between the two and the enmity engendered in years of New York state political fights—Roosevelt aspires to leadership of the state Republican organization and Littleton is a power in Democratic councils—was easily apparent.
Ignores Sinclair Attorney.
Roosevelt had already ignored the greeting of George F. Hoover, one of Sinclair's attorneys, when he almost ran full tilt into Littleton.
"How do you do, Colonel," said Littleton, with a smile. Roosevelt, after a stare which swept Littleton from head to foot, snapped out "Good day, sir," and stamped on up the steps.
Littleton shrugged his shoulders and observed "O, well, wait—my turn will come."
Honors were about evenly divided between the prosecution and the defense today. Wrangling between the opposing counsel continued to impede the progress of the trial but at the end of the day the government had raised some of its contention that Fall ignored legal advice which might have been his for the asking when he negotiated the Teapot Dome lease with Sinclair.

The defense scored its first big point of the trial when Arthur W. Ambrose, former chief petroleum technologist of the bureau of mines, under cross-examination by Mr. Hoover, asserted that he had warned Fall that the Teapot Dome naval oil reserve area was in grave danger of drainage as a result of drilling in adjacent tracts.
Helped Prepare Report.
Yesterday when he was questioned by Owen J. Roberts, chief prosecutor for the government, Ambrose asserted that he had assisted in preparation of a report to Fall in which it was denied that there was immediate danger of drainage.
Hints of a rupture in the joint defense which has operated so smoothly thus far in the trial came today in the midst of Ambrose's testimony, when Fall leaped up to assure Justice Sutherland that he did not concur in an objection raised by Attorney Hoover. It was the second time that Fall has interrupted in the proceedings.

Defense Is Divided.
On re-direct examination Prosecutor Roberts sought to have Ambrose say whether or not he had informed Fall that a dome on the border of Teapot Dome and within the naval reserve area was "sealed" and thus not in danger of drainage by private wells directly across the border.
"We object," shouted Hoover.
"We do not object," asserted Fall in a loud, clear voice.
"Well, we do," rejoined Hoover, and William E. Leahy, one of Fall's personal attorneys, shouted: "We want it understood that the defendant Fall has no objection to any inquiry about this lease."
"O, I understand that," declared Justice Sutherland, and Hoover's objection was overruled.
Edwin S. Booth, former solicitor of the interior department, called to the stand by Atlee Pomerene, associated with Mr. Roberts as special government counsel, declared that Fall had never consulted him about the Teapot Dome lease, and, in fact, Booth asserted, however heard of the lease until after it had been executed.

Booth Dauberly Testimony.
To further substantiate the government's contention that Fall wanted no advice in the deal, Mr. Pomerene read excerpts from the testimony given by Harry M. Dauberly, attorney general in the Harding cabinet, who was a witness in the Fall-Dauberly trial. Dauberly asserted at that time that he was not consulted nor asked to give any opinions on the naval reserve leasing question, and he, too, declared he had never heard of the lease until after they were executed.
Bankrupt Broker Held
for $106,000 Theft.
New York, Oct. 25.—[AP.]—Herman W. Booth, bankrupt broker and ex-member of the New York stock exchange, today was held without bail for the grand jury, charged by Mrs. Jennie C. Denton with the theft of $106,000 in cash and securities. Claims in bankruptcy against Booth are estimated by creditors to exceed $2,000,000.

DENY WYOMING OIL MAN'S CLAIM TO TEAPOT LEASE

St. Louis, Mo., Oct. 25.—[AP.]—A decision upholding the Wyoming District court in overruling the claim of Patrick Sullivan to lease rights on the Teapot Dome naval oil reserve was handed down here today by the United States Circuit Court of Appeals.
Sullivan had sued the Mammoth Oil company, an interest backed by Harry P. Sinclair, contending his right to the lease was prior to that of the Mammoth company.
The appellate court held, as did the district court, that since the Mammoth had no lease rights under a previous court decision, neither did Sullivan, and that he could have obtained lease rights only by recourse to the department of the interior.
Sullivan is a wealthy stockman and oil operator of Casper, Wyo., and was a Republican national committeeman when he filed the suit in December, 1922.

MADDEN PROBES PROFIT CUT IN CANAL RAILWAY

BY GERALD MARTIN.
(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
PANAMA, Oct. 25.—Congressman Martin B. Madden, chairman of the House appropriation committee, arrived here today to investigate the profits of the government-owned Panama canal railway company which, after paying 18 per cent dividends for two years, now has returned to 5 per cent. Capitalized at $7,000,000 the company operates the railroad and steamship line, coaling plants, owns real estate, and runs commissaries and ships' supply stores. Mr. Madden believes more than $700,000 may be diverted annually to the treasury from the railroad company. The canal administration turns over to the treasury annually an average of $25,000,000, from which is deducted appropriations of around $3,500,000. The present fiscal year, ending next June, promises about $20,000,000 net treasury profit.

Acting Gov. Burgess explained that "to secure the present degree of United States' protection without the usual 40 per cent of ships and personnel. A navy costing $200,000,000 annually saves nearly $125,000,000 by the canal, which, deducting the overhead replacement, means at least a net saving of $125,000,000. The canal, with defense, cost $400,000,000, of this $125,000,000 being charged to defense."

"During the canal's construction the locks were enlarged from 100 by 800 feet to 115 by 1,000 feet and the canal was widened from 200 feet to 300 feet, while the cut's depth was increased from 35 to 40 feet, meeting the naval demands."

It was pointed out to Mr. Madden that the future average annual profit would exceed $20,000,000, which is needed for defense here and throughout the American West Indies.

Gov. Walker will return from Washington tomorrow.

IN THE INTEREST OF A GREATER APPRECIATION OF MUSIC IN AMERICA

Announcing the Aeolian PRIZE CONTEST

A new feature of the Duo-Art Radio Recitals
Beginning TONIGHT, at
7:30 o'clock—Station WLIB

THE FOURTH AEOLIAN RECITAL broadcast will be an occasion of unusual importance.

These concerts, which began three weeks ago, form part of a great international campaign inaugurated by The Aeolian Company for the purpose of assisting the rapidly developing appreciation of the beautiful masterpieces of the classical composers.

All over the world a musical renaissance is taking place. Evidences of this multiply on every side. Coming just at this time it is of especial interest and significance. Never in the history of art has good music been so readily available. Most of the larger cities have Symphony Orchestras; the smaller cities and towns boast of their Orchestras, Bands and Choral Societies.

The Moving Picture industry is doing its share in this far-reaching movement. The larger houses where pictures are shown have fine orchestras and their programs feature the best Operatic and Symphonic music.

All over the country, music clubs have been formed and with steadily increasing membership are actively engaged in doing their part to develop an understanding and love of fine music.

The Radio, the Phonograph and the Reproducing Piano, are bringing the works of the master composers and the famous interpreters into the remotest homes.

Nor are people longer content to be merely listeners. Music schools everywhere report largely increased attendance and in many instances have had to turn away pupils. Never was there a time when so many students were learning to play the piano, the organ and the more popular of the smaller musical instruments.

Never was knowledge of good music so important; for while you may enjoy the performance of a fine piece of music without any knowledge of it, your pleasure will be immeasurably increased by a familiarity with the composition and a knowledge of the composer and his meaning. Josef Hofmann says, "You get from a concert just exactly what you take to it, no more."

That the Aeolian Recitals gratify a real need in American life is forcefully indicated by the reception that has been accorded the first concerts. Now, in order that listeners may take an active part in the programs, The Aeolian Company announces a unique Contest, beginning tonight at 7:30 o'clock, and then continuing for the five weeks ending November 23. Scores of valuable prizes will be awarded the winners.

How to enter the contest

All you have to do to enter is to write a letter on the subject: "What Music Means in My Home, as Exemplified by This Evening's Duo-Art Recital." Or, if you choose, your letter may discuss one of the compositions played in the recital, or its composer.

We do not ask for formal "essays" in the usual sense of the word. We are interested rather in a sincere, simple expression of the significance of the Duo-Art Radio Recitals in the minds and hearts of those who are hearing them. You may consult musical literature or any references you choose. Or your letter may be but one or two sentences—length does not matter. Every letter will receive the careful attention of the judges.

Read the facts on this page carefully. Then try for one of the valuable prizes yourself.

Every Wednesday night the Duo Art recitals are bringing the best of the world's music into thousands of homes. Let your family enjoy Duo Art music. Tune in tonight at 7:30—Station WLIB.

OLYMPIA FIELDS SUED; BLAMED IN INJURY OF YOUTH

The annual frolic of the Olympia Fields Country club on the evening of Aug. 25, was described as a wet revel that led to the injury of her 19 year old son in a $35,000 damage suit filed in Superior court yesterday by Mrs. Luella S. Tyler of 7503 Yates avenue, in behalf of the boy.

The club is named one of the defendants in the case on the charge that it permitted gin and whiskey to be poured in its parlors and that the club's waiters served drinkers with cracked ice and ginger ale.

The liquor drinking, it is alleged, was responsible for an automobile accident following the party, in which the plaintiff's son, James R. Tyler Jr., suffered injuries to his spine and to his arms.

Another defendant is Mrs. Charlotte Slobo, wife of Dr. Frederick W. Slobo, of 6731 Merrill avenue. She is charged with driving the car in which young Tyler was hurt. Other defendants are Daniel Harris Jr., son of the former county commissioner, and Charles Scott, of 7246 Harvard avenue. They are charged with serving liquor to Mrs. Slobo and young Tyler.

Mrs. Tyler, through her attorney, Charles Mitchell, declares in her bill that her son of tender years was of immature judgment and accepted not only the drinks but also an invitation to ride home with the defendants. Mrs. Slobo was a little unsteady from the highballs, it is charged, and her car plunged into a creek near the club.

Scores Flee as Husband

Fires at Accused Rival

Bullets flew among scores of pedestrians who hurried to safety last night when Elmer Thomas, 43, of 1326 East 61st street, fired at a man he accused of meeting his wife secretly at the corner of 43d street and Stony Island avenue. Women dropped to the pavement and men ran in all directions when the fusillade began at the corner, one of the busiest on the south side. Thomas, his wife, Lily, 41, and William Robert, 35, of 6204 Stony Island avenue, were arrested by Woodlawn police. Both Mrs. Thomas and Roberts denied allegations of the husband.

FIREMEN WILL BURN 5 STORY BUILDING IN LOOP TO TEST ENGINE

Loop crowds who rush after fire trucks in search of excitement are going to have a first class conflagration started and put out for their special benefit a week from today.

In response to Mayor Thompson's suggestion that the city's newest fire engine be tried out on a public bonfire, managers of the Stewart estate, owners of the five story building at Wacker drive and Franklin street, yesterday offered their building as fuel for the blaze.

The old structure has been unoccupied for two years and was to have been demolished soon. The new engine carries hose with nozzles 2 inches in diameter, instead of the regulation 1½ inches. Delivering 1,500 gallons of water a minute at 100 pounds pressure, the new equipment, it is believed, will tear through a brick wall.

Fire Commissioner Albert Goodrich has put Assistant Fire Marshal Daniel J. Carmody in charge of the exhibition. Carmody said he would arrange to bring to the scene a fire boat and enough other equipment to make the event highly spectacular.

Lesson No. 2

Question: Why do underweight children need and realize so much benefit from emulsified cod-liver oil?

Answer: Because it provides a vitamin-rich food that nourishes efficiently and helps thin children put on weight. It's known world-wide as

DAWES GREET'S NEW CHIEF OF GERMAN STAFF

For nearly an hour yesterday Vice President Charles G. Dawes and Gen. Wilhelm Heise, chief of staff of the German army, chatted over the problems of military supply. Gen. Dawes was the head of the board in Paris that bought supplies for the allies after the U. S. entered the world war.

Accompanied by Col. A. L. Conger, his escort assigned by the U. S. war department, Gen. Heise called on Gen. Dawes at the latter's loop office. Previously Gen. Heise had lunched with Maj. Gen. William Lamater, 6th corps area commander, at the Hotel Bismarck.

Gen. Heise called on President Coolidge at the White House before beginning his tour of the country which will take him to the Pacific coast. Capt. Helmuth Heise, son of the general, and Maj. Hans Stumpf, of the German army, are with Gen. Heise.

TRIAL OF "JEWS" AVENGER" GOES TO JURY TODAY

PARIS, Oct. 23.—(AP)—The trial of Samuel Schwartzbard, Hebrew cloak-maker, for the murder of Gen. Simon Petliura may reach a verdict tomorrow evening.

The sensational case, which was expected to continue for at least another fortnight, was cut short this evening by the decision of Henri Torres of defense counsel, which was concurred in by Caesar Campinchi, attorney for the Petliura family, to forego the testimony of additional witnesses.

After another day of interminable orations and heated squabbles over technicalities the picture of defense counsel arose suddenly and faced Chief Justice Flory.

"For seven days," he boomed in a sonorous voice, "witnesses for the prosecution have been heard. By an extraordinary accident those who appeared in the last two days have been extremely favorable to the defense. I had cited 23 witnesses, among whom were 15 soldiers who could testify as to Schwartzbard's bravery at the French front during the world war. Well, I will give up these witnesses. I believe the jury has already made up its mind. I am ready for summation."

Witnesses had testified earlier in the day that Petliura could have checked Jewish pogroms in the Ukraine, for which Schwartzbard claims to have been an avenger of his race. These witnesses declared Petliura deliberately tolerated massacres of the Jews.

ORDER AIRPLANES OUT TO DESTROY
FLOATING LIQUOR

Washington, D. C., Oct. 23.—(AP)—The coast guard service has ordered out a squadron of airplanes to destroy cases of liquor floating off the Atlantic coast.

Recently planes sank with machine gun fire one lot of 100 cases of alcohol and another of 150 cases floating in close formation.

Coast guard officials said the rum runners were forced to jettison their cargo because of storms.

135 MILES OF NEW HIGHWAYS, PLAN FOR NEXT YEAR

One hundred and thirty-five miles of new highway pavements, which will include 60 miles of the 40 foot, four lane automobile boulevards adopted as the chief means of relieving Chicago's traffic congestion, will be built in the west and south sections of Cook county next year if programs adopted yesterday by President Anton J. Cermak's wider highways advisory commission are followed.

The commission also recommended that the Illinois Central railroad eliminate nine dangerous grade crossings on the west side by elevating its tracks from Oak Park avenue on the east to the Cook county line on the west. This improvement, urged by the citizens' commission, would stop the growing traffic danger at the Oak Park avenue, Harlem avenue, 15th street, First avenue, 17th avenue, Wolf road and proposed Harrison street extension crossings. The rail line had already elevated over the Roosevelt and Magnheim road grades.

ATWATER KENT RADIO

The day of big-production prices in fine radio has arrived!

WHEN the few buy, prices are high. When everybody buys, prices drop. That is the law of American industry. The overwhelming, world-wide demand for Atwater Kent Radio has created the world's greatest radio factory. It has made possible the almost unbelievable economies of mass production.

These savings come back to you in the form of lower prices so that demand may be still greater and mass production still more economical.

It happened in the automotive industry—in every great American industry. Now it has happened in the radio industry.

Five years ago we started to make radio in a factory covering less than two acres. Today's factory covers fifteen and one-half acres. As the demand for Atwater Kent Radio has grown we have devised new ways of manufacture with which to meet it.

This year sees the culmination. The factory is now what we always hoped it would be some day. Our engineers have found new and better ways, have devised new and better machinery, have literally created new automatic machines—miles of them—all to the end that each individual Atwater Kent instrument might cost us less so that we could sell it for less.

And so, NOW, at the start of the 1928 radio season, we pass along to you these savings of almost 20 per cent on former prices.

Only the vast momentum of a factory capable of turning out eleven sets a minute could produce quality radio at such a price.

Electrified, if you like

Any Atwater Kent Receiver can be operated from your electric light circuit as a source of current supply. It's merely a matter of equipment. Just tell the dealer which you wish—battery power or socket power.

The greatest radio values ever offered are yours at the nearest Atwater Kent dealer's. See him today.

BUSINESS BOOMS IN WET DETROIT, LEADERS ADMIT

Back 'Good Liquor' Mayor
for Re-election.

BY JOHN BOETTIGER.

(Chicago Tribune Staff Service.)
Detroit, Mich., Oct. 25.—(Special.)—Detroit, wet, has become Detroit prospering, in the opinion of a large group of the city's business men, who today formed a committee to boost Mayor John W. Smith, champion of wet, for reelection.

The mayor is campaigning on a platform that prohibition never can be enforced, that it is the greatest force for evil in the country today, and that a liberal policy will continue in Detroit under his administration. His battle has attracted the attention of the nation, hundreds of persons from many states having written Mayor Smith in praise for his stand.

Led by John H. Thompson, wealthy automobile dealer, the business men's committee has laid plans to put before every voter their plea to support the mayor against his dry opponent, John C. Lodge.

Mayor Smith is campaigning on a platform that prohibition never can be enforced, that it is the greatest force for evil in the country today, and that a liberal policy will continue in Detroit under his administration. His battle has attracted the attention of the nation, hundreds of persons from many states having written Mayor Smith in praise for his stand.

Some of Detroit's greatest sons are members of Mayor Smith's administration. Frank Book, multimillionaire hotel man, and Lawrence P. Fisher, president of the Cadillac Motor company and vice president of General Motors corporation, are members of the water commission. Edsel Ford and Albert Kahn, the latter the noted architect, are members of the art commission. Many other offices are held by leading Detroiters.

An effort was made today to learn the attitude of Henry Ford. At his office in Dearborn Mr. Ford's secretary brought out word that neither Henry Ford nor his son, Edsel, would comment on Mayor Smith's campaign. Recently, however, Henry Ford discussed Mayor Smith with some prominent statesmen and was said to have praised him highly as a capable executive. Mr. Ford is a prohibitionist, which might account for his unwillingness openly to endorse Mayor Smith.

Millions flock to Detroit. Millions of visitors have flocked to Detroit in the last three years to a record number of conventions, it was stated today by William Hamilton, convention manager for the Book-Cadillac hotel. In 1933 there were but 96 conventions held in Detroit, Mr. Hamilton revealed.

The next year, the first of Mayor Smith's administration, there were 184 conventions, said Mr. Hamilton. In 1925 the number was 264; in 1926 there were 253, and in 1927 up to date Detroit has been host to 290 gatherings of the largest trade organizations together with the largest of associations of the scientific, medical, surgical, and industrial work.

"We attribute this largely to the concentrated efforts of Mayor Smith and the cooperation he has given the city and the management of the hotels of the city."

Mayor Smith says the conventions have multiplied in number so rapidly because people want to have a good time when they go to conventions, and with the city a haven of good liquor and bright lights, many are attracted to Detroit.

$250,000 WORTH OF OPIUM SEIZED BY U. S. AGENTS

Father of Famous Dancer Held.

St. Albans, Vt., Oct. 25.—(Special.)—One of the largest seizures of opium ever made in the United States, said to have a resale value of $250,000, was made in Isle La Motte today by federal narcotic agents who had posed as prospective purchasers of 750 pounds of the drug.

They arrested Oscar Mouvet, proprietor of the Hotel Madeleine, Paris, France, and father of the late Maurice, the dancer. With him was arrested John Wilson of Colebrook, N. H., a chauffeur, who had driven the automobile containing the opium across the border from Canada. They will be arraigned here tomorrow.

Mouvet, eager to retrieve war losses, entered the venture at the invitation of a wealthy Canadian, it is said, investing $75,000 francs. The opium

SOUTH AFRICANS WIN NEW FLAG; KEEP BRITAIN'S

(Chicago Tribune Staff Service.)
CAPE TOWN, South Africa, Oct. 25.—Prime Minister Hertzog and Gen. Jan C. Smuts, former prime minister and leader of the South African party, today came to an agreement on the South African flag controversy.

The settlement follows a bitter struggle that lasted eighteen months between the government, composed of the Labor and Nationalist parties, and the opposition, composed of the South African party. Many riots and huge political meetings were held by both sides.

Gen. Hertzog and Smuts met yesterday and it was announced today that they had agreed on a domestic flag consisting of horizontal stripes of orange, white and blue, with the union jack and the two old flags of the Free State and Transvaal placed in the middle on the white stripes. The provision that the union jack will be kept as the official flag and on government buildings, ships, etc., was made part of the agreement.

MOORS DEMAND BIG RANSOM FOR FRENCH WOMEN

Steeg Plans Air Attack on Kidnapers.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
CARABLANCA, Oct. 25.—Although prepared to offer any sum to ransom the two women who were kidnapped from the hands of the marauding Moors, Resident Governor Theodore Steeg is getting set to read the riot act.

"I am naturally heartbroken about the affair," he said on his arrival in France today, "but consider my duty is to blame for disregarding the advice of qualified authorities to keep out of the rebel area. I will embrace them and scold them when I get them back."

Threats to War.
The Arab chief Si Ould Guerrit is preparing to ask a ransom of more than 1,000,000 francs ($39,200). He already asked 800,000 francs ($33,800) as the price for deliverance of the two small Arab girls, whose parents were murdered.

Gov. Steeg intends to demand that the two girls, his nephews, Yves Steeg and Jean Maillet, and the two women, Baroness Steinheil and her daughter Mme. Marie de Prokhorov, promptly be released under penalty of violent reprisals by land and air over the whole disquiet area.

May Be Kept as Hostages.
PARIS, Oct. 25.—(AP)—A dispatch to Le Matin from Rabat, Morocco, says that further and more formidable obstacles have arisen to the liberation of the kidnapped members of Resident General Steeg's household.

It is now feared that they have been captured by Marabout Si Hosten Ou Temga, who dominates the region near the Atlas mountains. In this case their release would become a political question and not one of a monetary ransom.

Temga, who is a fanatical old man, declines to negotiate, the correspondent reports, and he has already put to death two members of his family who talked with French political officers. It would be most difficult to come to an agreement with him, for he prefers to keep the four persons as hostages so that he may be assured that the French will take no action against him.

Victims Kept in Chains.
BUENOS AIRES, Argentina, Oct. 25.—(AP)—The Tangier correspondent of La Nacion reports that couriers sent to secure information concerning the party of Europeans, including the nephew of Resident-General Steeg, kidnapped in Morocco, found the two men were chained by their hands and feet, while their two women companions were chained by the hands.

Lithuania Begs Pope to Protect Priests in Vilna

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
LONDON, Oct. 25.—The Lithuanian government has appealed to the pope to protect Lithuanian clergymen in the Vilna district against Polish persecution. The immediate cause of the appeal is the expulsion by Poles from Vilna of twelve Lithuanians, of whom three are priests. These now are being held on the frontier because the Poles will not allow them to reenter Poland and the Lithuanians are afraid to allow them to enter Lithuania, fearing an attack from the Poles if they do so.

WARFIELD WILLS MILLIONS FOR WOMEN'S HOME

Baltimore, Md., Oct. 25.—(Special.)—S. Davies Warfield left a will which directs that his entire residuary estate, estimated at from $4,000,000 to $10,000,000, shall be used to found an "Anna Emory Warfield home" for dependent aged women at his Manor Glen farm at Monkton, Baltimore county, Maryland.

The home is to be named after his mother, who died many years ago. She was the wife of Henry M. Warfield, Baltimore grain merchant and director of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad.

SHE'S A WITNESS AT MARRIAGE OF FORMER HUSBAND

Mrs. Agnes Jorgensen Holmlander of 306 Lemont avenue dropped her grievances against her former husband yesterday after he agreed to protect the interests of his common law wife.

The former wife's attitude saved Arthur Jorgensen of 3460 Harrison street from a jail sentence threatened by Superior Judge Joseph Sabath for his failure to pay $500 alimony ordered when she obtained a divorce in 1925.

Jorgensen, arrested on a writ of attachment, pleaded with the court that he was unable to pay because he was supporting Edda Ness, the mother of his 10 months old baby. The judge appeared to be little impressed by this defense, and then Mrs. Holmlander spoke.

"I'm not anxious to see him sent to jail, but I do want to see this other woman protected. I'll forgive him for his treatment to me if he'll try to make her happy."

Judge Sabath stepped down from the bench and called Jorgensen and Miss Ness into his chambers. With his former wife and her present husband, Claude Holmlander, as witnesses, Jorgensen was married by the judge.

FIND MRS. REMUS AND DODGE HAD DEPOSIT BOXES

Lansing Banker Tells of Their Visits There.

Lansing, Mich., Oct. 25.—[Special.]—Two empty deposit boxes in the vaults of the American State Savings bank here were viewed late today as the closing episode in the taking of depositions from Lansing residents in regard to charges of George Remus, former Cincinnati bootlegger king, that the wife whom he shot a few weeks ago had coaxed part of his fortune in Lansing, home town of Franklin L. Dodge Jr., the former U. S. dry agent accused by Remus of having alienated his wife's affections and plotted with her to make away with his property while Remus was in prison.

The deposit boxes were those rented by Dodge and by a "Mrs. A. H. Holmes." The defense contends that Mrs. Holmes was Mrs. Remus. Mrs. Holmes, the bank records submitted by J. Edward Rice, president, revealed, relinquished her deposit box Nov. 11, 1924, but the box which Dodge rented May 3, 1924, never had been opened so far as the bank's information showed.

Defense Is Satisfied.

Counsel for Remus appeared satisfied after the depositions made before Harry Silsbee, special commissioner, that the testimony proved the defense claim that there was collusion between Dodge and Mrs. Remus and that the latter actually visited Lansing and deposited valuables despite Dodge's denial that he ever knew of Mrs. Remus being here.

Mr. Rice gave the date when "Mrs. Holmes" leased the deposit box as Sept. 24, 1924, said that she visited it May 8, 1924, and turned in her key on Armistice day of last year. He submitted her photo, made at the time she took the box, and it was identified as that of Mrs. Remus by Charles Elston, chief counsel for Remus. Holmes was Mrs. Remus' name before her marriage to the bootlegger king. The signature of "Ruth Holmes," supposedly Mrs. Remus' daughter, along with that of the older woman on the application for the deposit box, was characterized by Remus' attorneys as corroborative evidence.

When Elston Testified.

Miss Patricia Schneider, assistant counsel of the bank vaults, gave the most direct testimony linking Dodge with Mrs. Remus. She voiced belief that she had seen them visit the vaults together.

Although Franklin Dodge was present during the taking of only part of the depositions, his father Frank L. Dodge, an attorney, was one of those questioned as a state witness. He declared that his son was with him in Pelham, New York, on Sept. 22, when Remus declares that he missed finding Dodge, and Mrs. Remus together at the Dempsey-Turney fight in Chicago by only 55 seconds.

W. A. Rice, Ingham county court officer, also testified that Franklin Dodge was in court here on Oct. 4, 5 and 6, dates when Remus also has deposed the man was with Mrs. Remus.

Elston represented Remus here while Carl Bunker watched the state's interests.

HUNT REMUS EVIDENCE.

While the work of rounding up Chicago witnesses who will testify in the Remus murder trial at Cincinnati was proceeding yesterday under the direction of Attorney Harry Fritzsche of defense counsel, Charles P. Tait II, prosecuting attorney of Hamilton county, O., who will prosecute Remus, arrived in Chicago to seek depositions to bolster the state's case.

"Remus committed a cold blooded murder," declared Mr. Tait, "and I have no doubt that he will be electrocuted for it. He will get nowhere with the defense which he seems to be planning."

SAMUEL HOFMAN WILLS $200,000 TO HELP CHARITY

Practically his entire estate, valued at more than $200,000, is left to charity in the will of the late Samuel Hofman of 2118 Ingleside avenue, filed yesterday before Assistant Probate Judge Edward S. Schaeffer.

The leading beneficiary is the Chicago Community trust fund, which is to receive $200,000 in trust immediately and $145,000 more eventually. Thirty-two charitable and civic organizations are to receive smaller bequests.

Relatives will receive the income from the $145,000 fund during their lifetime and then it will be turned over to the Chicago Community trust. Mr.

Hofman is survived by two nieces and a nephew: Mrs. Irene L. Rosenberger, of the Sherland hotel, 1454 South Shore drive; Flora L. Sanger, of Dallas, Tex.; and Samuel Hofman, of 612 Arlington place.

The will provides that the Anna Brill Hofman memorial fund of the Jewish People's Institute be valued at $5,000. Bequests of $5,000 are made to the United Charities and to the Jewish Charities.

Capper Quality Clothes

[custom tailored expressly for Capper & Capper]

By GEORGE H. CAPPER

THOMAS EDISON spoke, and forty-three radio stations broadcast his words to millions of listeners.

Mr. Edison says the incandescent electric light is the most important of his inventions. Mr. Edison—the idealist, the dreamer.

And so, as the world wags along it is the man of ideals—the weaving phantom of action who registers real achievement.

"Quality" is the Capper & Capper ideal—the goal of a dusty year ambition. And we are not losing sight of our course—indeed, it is more clearly defined today than ever before in our commercial history.

The heads of the Capper & Capper business, from the president down, personally insist upon more than the maintenance of quality; that is not enough; there must be constant improvement in the quality of Capper clothes.

It is our covenant with the public.

COLORADO CHIEF D. K.'S ARREST OF MINE PICKETS

Governor Makes Survey of Strike Area.

Denver, Colo., Oct. 25.—(AP)—Gov. Adams tonight approved the policy of mine officers in arresting pickets in Colorado's strike affected coal mining region after a survey of the strike territory.

Although conditions "looked bad," the chief executive said he was satisfied that sheriffs were able to handle the situation in their counties. The governor said he had no hint of possible action by the state in the strike.

Gov. Adams and his party saw the operations of a small army of pickets at Vail, a coal camp near Trinidad. Large crowds of strikers milled around the camp. News of the governor's trip, which began at sunrise today, was received jubilantly at I. W. W. headquarters at Walsenburg. The strike leaders said they welcomed the governor's interest in the dispute.

Three More Mines Close.

The strike, which has paralyzed a large portion of the state's coal producing area, was called by the I. W. W. organization. Large groups of pickets have been arrested since the outbreak began, charged with interfering with miners who wish to work. Additional strength was reported in the strike movement today, resulting in the closing of three more mines. Many miners are preparing for a caravan to Fremont county to attempt to induce miners there to join the strike. K. Clemens, chairman of the northern Colorado strike committee, said a caravan of 250 miners would leave Lafayette tomorrow morning. Miners at the Coal Creek mine of the C. P. & L. in Fremont county, today at a meeting reaffirmed their opposition to the I. W. W. and condemned the strike.

Sabotage in Ohio.

Cleveland, O., Oct. 25.—(AP)—Officials of two Ohio mine areas tonight were seeking those responsible for two disturbances in widely separated districts of Ohio coal fields.

The tipple of the Budd mine, 21 miles southeast of Steubenville, was dynamited. The mine, owned by the Youngblood and Ohio coal company, has not been in operation.

In the Hooking field, near Nelsonville, Capt. William Havlin, National Guard observer, was fired on by a sniper while en route to the Lick Run mine.

State's Attorney Crowe and his assistants, Harold Levy and Emmet Byrne, expressed the hope that the jury would be completed this week.

The jurors selected yesterday are Arthur D. Steffen, Orlando; Edward Hornsby, 5345 West 13d street, Summit; Charles E. Weaver, 124 Grand, and Henry N. Bodecker, 4513 North Kimball avenue.

Goddard, Kan., Oct. 25.—(AP)—Irene Ayres, six years old, today was credited with giving her life to save her infant brother. Irene was carrying the baby in her arms when she slipped and fell backward into a wash-bowl filled with scalding water. She held the baby out of the water, so that he was only slightly burned. But Irene was burned so severely that she died.

"Electricity has added to the wealth of the nation"

Says Hon. Albert C. Ritchie,
Governor of Maryland

"In your development of cheap power you have added immeasurably to the wealth of the nation; and it is not old wealth taken from others by the process of trade, but new wealth wrung from the treasure house of nature."

ELECTRICITY has become the most universally useful force the world has ever known. This result has not been obtained merely by converting coal and water into electrical energy. Far-sighted planning, and the success of the principle of individual initiative in the management of power companies are responsible.

The power companies have anticipated the needs for electrical service. They have built power plants and transmission lines in advance of rapidly growing demands. Through interconnected lines an abundance of power has been brought to cities, towns, villages and farms.

Meanwhile the public has accepted electrical service, paving the way for improvements and encouraging the invention and production of a great variety of useful electrical devices. Three million investors own power company securities. Sixteen million homes and one hundred and fifty thousand factories are using electrical service. By continued support of the American principle of individual initiative, and through the use of more labor-saving electrical equipment, the whole public has been benefited by improved service and reduced rates.

The electrical business under individual initiative and government regulation, supported by public acceptance, has increased the wealth, comfort and happiness of the whole nation. The full development of an electrical age can be safeguarded in its future growth by continued support of these principles.

NEWSPAPER ADS RELIABLE, SWIFT TELLS PACKERS

Public Confidence Adds to Value, He Says.

Increasing reliance by the public on newspaper advertising has been disclosed by the experience of the packing house trades. G. F. Swift told the Institute of American Meat Packers yesterday in session at the Stevens hotel.

Mr. Swift, chairman of the public relations committee of the institute, in discussing the results of the first nationwide advertising campaign in which the meat packers coordinated in using newspaper space, said that the results, as shown by a definite survey of the campaign, were gratifying.

"The fact that newspapers for the most part will print only reputable advertising has done much to increase the public's confidence in the advertisements they read," he said. "Under the strict supervision of conscientious publishers, who are in the great majority, advertising has become more reliable in every way."

"Untrue statements seldom are found in the advertising columns of reputable publications, and disparaging statements by an advertiser concerning a competitor's product are barred in most newspapers."

"Millions of people read their newspapers completely in these days and search the advertising columns for news of countless business affairs which concern them. The public has come to regard advertising as a vital part of the news of the day."

Oscar G. Mayer was reflected president of the institute and Thomas E. Wilson was chosen to continue as chairman of the institute plan committee. Vice presidents elected are: E. A. Cudahy of Chicago, John J. Fein of Philadelphia, Frederic S. Snyder of Boston and John A. Hawkings of Chicago. W. W. Woods of Chicago was reflected as the institute's executive vice president and Henry Neuhoff of Nashville was elected treasurer.

The following directors were named: L. E. Dunning of St. Louis, T. Henry Foster of Ottumwa, Ia.; Charles E. Herriek of Chicago, J. R. Kingham of Indianapolis, Elmore M. Schroth of Cincinnati and G. F. Swift of Chicago.

Today the packers will attend the fourth public conference on education and industry at Mandel hall, University of Chicago. The annual banquet at the Palmer house tonight will close the twenty-second convention of the institute. The speakers will be David R. Forgan and Gordon J. Laine.

Judge McKinley Refuses Writ to Unseat Comerford

Petition, brought by Andrew Donovan, defeated judicial candidate, to compel County Clerk Robert M. Sweetzer to issue him a certificate of election for the seat to be occupied by Judge-elect Frank D. Comerford of the Superior court yesterday, was dismissed by Judge Michael L. McKinley, who sustained Mr. Comerford's demurrer. Judge McKinley acted on the ground that to unseat Judge Comerford would be to nullify the action of 295,000 voters.

SPEAKERS RAP TRANSIT LINES' FRANCHISE PLAN

Public support of either the Lismann or city ownership transit plan was urged before the Cook County Real Estate board yesterday by Dr. E. W. Bemis, consulting engineer, and Carl D. Thompson, secretary of the Public Jernership League of America. Both men scored the indeterminate franchise plan of the transit companies as a scheme for private monopoly of the lines and predicted that it would be defeated at a referendum.

"Our big fight now is to thwart this conspiracy for a perpetual sell out of Chicago's streets and then to preserve them forever for the people," declared Mr. Thompson. Mr. Bemis said the Lismann ordinance is the only feasible plan before the city council.

Returning from an eastern junket with the council's committee on gas, oil and electricity yesterday, Ald. E. I. Frankhauser, whose subcommittee is drafting a new set of transit bills, announced all will be ready for the council at its next meeting, Nov. 2.

HUNTER WITHOUT FOOD IN WILDS 15 DAYS RESCUED

WINNIPEG, Man., Oct. 25.—(AP)—Suffering from partial paralysis and without food, matches or ammunition, and having given up all hope of rescue, Carl Bailey, 37 year old fur trader of Norway House, Man., was rescued today after having been lost in the wilderness of the north country since Sept. 15.

A message received from Norway House, a Hudson Bay post, 300 miles north of Winnipeg, said that for fifteen days the young trader was without food, his left side had become paralyzed, and he was awaiting death, despairing of rescue after so many days of privation, when a search party discovered him this afternoon.

While on a hunting expedition 200 miles northeast of Norway House, Bailey and his Indian guide became separated. For three days the Indian searched for his companion. Failing to find a trace of him, the guide made an arduous journey over the wilderness trails and by canoe to Norway House. A search party was organized immediately.

Free their feet Give them "old shoe" comfort in their new shoes~

SENTENCED... to one week's hard labor. Are you unwittingly doing that to your children's feet when you buy them new shoes?

Tender, growing foot-bones, weren't made to "break in" tough, stiff soles. The first discomfort which comes from soles that need "breaking in" plainly shows they are not flexible enough to give little feet the unrestrained freedom doctors say they must have to grow strong and healthy.

The next time you buy the youngsters shoes, assure the present comfort and future health of their feet by making sure they have Spartan Soles. Spartan responds instantly to the movements of active little feet. It gives them the healthy, barefoot freedom that lets them grow naturally.

Spartan is an entirely different leather that is not only more flexible but also damp proof, slip proof and longer wearing. It has all the desirable features you have wanted but never found in any one leather before.

CORONER POSTS BAIL FOR WIFE WHO KILLED COP

Names Her Husband for Fatal Shooting.

Coroner Oscar Wolff yesterday posted his own name to bonds of $10,000 to obtain the release of Mrs. Catherine Cassler, who is charged with the murder of her husband, Police Sergeant Vernon Goranson.

Mrs. Goranson has admitted that she shot and killed the policeman as he lay asleep in their home at 10743 Lawrence St.

Refusing to make any comment on the coroner's action, State's Attorney George S. Egan instructed one of his assistants, Edward Spoto, to lay the evidence in the case before the grand jury today.

Believes Her Insane at Time.

Coroner Wolff explained his action by saying that he was an old friend of the Goranson family and that he was convinced the heavy drinking of Goranson was responsible for the tragedy.

"For the last thirty years I have known the Goransons and was always friendly with them," he said. "I believe that Mrs. Goranson was temporarily insane when she shot her husband. He was a fine man when he was sober, but a bad drunk when he was drinking."

The coroner added that this was the first time he had ever signed a bond for a person accused of crime.

Goranson was drunk the day before he was killed," he said. "He drove his car into a garage door and killed it. His superior officers knew him as a heavy drinker, too. Mrs. Goranson is an estimable woman. Her relatives know it, and every one of them, including the parents and brothers of the slain man, approve the course I have taken."

Because the dead man's relatives declined to sign a murder charge against the widow, the name of Police-man John Ryan appears as the complainant.

The coroner furnished the bonds before Municipal Judge Haas after Deputy Coroner J. J. Dedrick had continued the inquest to Nov. 16. Assistant State's Attorney Ward Swallow protested against the coroner adding the release of an admitted killer.

IDENTIFIED AS BOMBER; HELD.

Michael Constantine, 22, 631 South La Salle avenue, was held to the grand jury yesterday in bonds of $10,000 after he had been identified at a police showup by George Jones, 3121 Algonquin avenue, as the man who had robbed him.

MRS. CASSLER IS GIVEN 60 DAYS FOR AN APPEAL

Mrs. Catherine Cassler, sentenced to hang on Friday, yesterday was granted a sixty day stay of execution to allow her attorneys more time to perfect their appeal to the Illinois Supreme court.

Judge Philip L. Sullivan, who was the trial judge, issued the order on petition of her lawyer, W. W. Witty.

Mrs. Cassler, convicted for participation in the murder of William Lindstrom for his insurance, was taken from the jail to the county building in a patrol wagon. She bit her lips nervously while Attorney Witty presented her plea and then muttered, "Isn't that just lovely?" as the court granted her petition.

FLAY WISCONSIN REPEAL OF 'MUST' IN SCHOOL DRILLS

Reserve Officers Call It
Unpatriotic.

Milwaukee, Wis., Oct. 25.—[Special.]—Wisconsin's repeal of the compulsory military training law for students at the state university was criticized today in a committee report to the sixth annual convention of the Reserve Officers' Association of America. The report urged that a campaign be waged to again make training compulsory for first year students.

College papers which publish unpatriotic editorials also were flayed by the committee. It was demanded that such publications be combated by the printing of a second paper where the president of the school has no control.

There were 11,899 less students in the reserve officers' training corps this year than the year before, according to the findings of the committee. The decline in their number was cited as an example of "unpatriotic work in the schools."

America's best "safety first" campaign lies in a sound and comprehensive program of preparedness, Col. Hanford MacNider, assistant secretary of war, told the delegates today.

"Wars are terrible accidents, and in the last free for all series we were badly hurt. But we want no more of them."

"Industry prevents accidents by 'safety first' campaigns and constant education," Col. MacNider continued. "America's best safety first campaign lies in a program of preparedness."

INVESTIGATE BABY'S DEATH.
The New City police are investigating the death of 4-year-old Frances Kope, 4433 South Wood street who died, according to her parents, following a fall from her porch. The child died while Mrs. Veronica Kope, the mother, and an older sister, Rose, were tending the child's injury, the police were told. An inquest will be held today.

WOMAN, 27, ASKS $450,000; CLAIMS JILT BY MAN, 81

Charging that her heart, reputation, and character have been damaged through the refusal of Gustaf Berglund, 81-year-old Michigan lumberman, to marry her, Mrs. Ardis Pederson, 27-year-old South Milwaukee divorcee, has filed suit for $450,000 in Ontonagon county courts at Ironwood, Mich.

Mrs. Pederson's heart was damaged, she claims, after waiting since 1925 for Mr. Berglund to carry out his promise of marriage. Her reputation was impaired, according to the suit, by the fact that the aged lumberman and founder of the town of Berglund transported her to Milwaukee and thence to Florida, where they were to be married upon their arrival. Her character was damaged by living with Berglund as his common law wife, she claims.

Mr. Berglund was in Milwaukee today, but was reluctant to discuss the suit.

"Why should I marry a young woman when I am 81 years old and can hardly walk?" he said. "That woman was only my housekeeper and I have receipts to show that I have paid her for all her work. I'd be a fool to marry a woman of 27."

SHUMAKER LOSES ANOTHER COURT TILT TO GILLIOM

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 25.—[Special.]—The Indiana supreme court today overruled a motion by E. S. Shumaker, superintendent of the Indiana Anti-Saloon league, to make more specific the charges by Arthur I. Gilliom, attorney general, in his effort to increase the sentence imposed on the dry leader for contempt of court.

The decision was announced without comment. The court previously had overruled a motion by Shumaker's attorneys to strike out Gilliom's petition for increase of sentence, and today's ruling removed the last counter motion, clearing the way for direct consideration of Gilliom's motion.

The move to increase Dr. Shumaker's sentence of sixty days at the state penitentiary and fine of $250 followed publication of letters exchanged between Shumaker and United States Senator James E. Watson just before the senatorial election in 1925, which Gilliom charged in his motion, indicated an attempt by Shumaker to influence the decision of the court by enlisting the aid of Senators Watson and Arthur R. Robinson.

SELRIDGE FIELD AVIATOR FOUND GUILTY OF RECKLESS FLYING

Atlanta, Ga., Oct. 25.—[Special.]—Lieut. George G. Finch, army reserve aviator, was found guilty by a court martial here today of "reckless" flying and using profane language toward enlisted men, but was acquitted of charges of perjury and making a false statement.

He was sentenced to forfeit $50 of his pay per month for six months.

The officer, attached to Selfridge field, Mich., was tried in connection with his flight over Atlanta, May 1, when he was alleged to have "endangered property and lives" by flying below the 1,000 foot minimum altitude prescribed by regulations for flights over congested areas.

The charges of perjury and making a false statement grew out of his reports concerning the flight to investigating officers. He was acquitted last week of a charge of perjury in connection with the profanity allegation.

STUDENTS' COATS CARPET STREET FOR RUTH ELDER

Lisbon, Portugal, Oct. 25.—[Special.]—A welcome which sounded from land and sea and air greeted Ruth Elder and her co-pilot, George Haldeman, when the American flyers arrived here this evening aboard the steamer Lima from the Azores, after their bold Atlantic flight and dramatic rescue from the ocean.

Before debarking, Miss Elder was met by Fred Morris Dearing, the American minister to Portugal, and the staff of the American legation.

When they had landed they were driven to the house of Gen. Carmona, president of the republic, who praised their gallantry. Then the tired but smiling Americans were taken to the American legation.

Breaking through the police cordon as Ruth landed, a group of students rushed forward and spread their cloaks on the ground, carpeting the way for the pretty little heroine. This brought cheers from the admiring crowds, and it was with difficulty that the pair were rescued and hurried off to receive the President's greetings.

D. C. STEPHENSON IS REFUSED WRIT BY HIGH COURT

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 25.—[Special.]—The appeal of D. C. Stephenson for a writ of habeas corpus was denied today by unanimous vote of the Indiana supreme court. The court affirmed the refusal last December of Judge Harry L. Crumpacker of the La Porte county superior court to issue such a writ. Stephenson, former klan dragon, and Indiana political czar, sought the writ to obtain his release from prison, where he is serving a life sentence for murder.

The case came to the Supreme court on appeal by Stephenson and the court heard oral arguments several weeks ago. There remains one more case before the Supreme court involving the question of Stephenson's imprisonment, the direct appeal from conviction in Hamilton county circuit court in 1925 on the murder charge.

never quite able

Always a little behind schedule; never quite able to keep up. . . . And so opportunities are missed just because so many of us are under par! Not sick—just lacking in the vital energy that is so necessary to success.

For this, under-par condition physicians are now making new effective use of an old time health-builder. Only recently science has found the value of this health-builder—cod-liver oil—to be due to its exceptional richness in substances that build vitality and increase resistance to many infections.

In addition to its "building-up" ability, cod-liver oil is also of proved value in preventing colds and other infections. Scientists now know that cod-liver oil for these purposes depends solely upon its vitamin content.

Thousands of physicians use only Squibb's Cod-Liver Oil for this purpose, because it is always uniformly high in the health protecting Vitamins A and D and in Vitamin-Tested and Vitamin-Protected. Squibb's is the only cod-liver oil lastingly protected from the destructive action of air. It therefore does not lose its effectiveness.

Ask your physician about "building-up," about protecting yourself from winter colds, by taking Squibb's Cod-Liver Oil daily. Physicians everywhere have confidence in the Squibb name. You can get Squibb's Cod-Liver Oil at all reliable drug stores. For your protection insist on Squibb's.

Britten Urges Continuance of Practice.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 25. (Special)—Criticism of the state department's practice of scrutinizing foreign investments in the United States was urged today by Representative A. Britten [Rep. Ill.]. Britten took the position that it tends to safeguard American interests.

His remark was made at the White House where there is any division of opinion among administration officials on the subject.

Representative Britten said he hoped the state department "would use every means and all the legal force for the protection of American dollars which may be made available for investment in foreign lands."

"It is hard to understand the criticism directed against the state department for doing the very thing that the department is best qualified to do—safeguard American interests," said Mr. Britten.

"We are spending hundreds of millions for the prestige and protection of American commerce on the high seas. We are spending millions

"If harvesting machinery, meat products, and mechanical equipment manufactured in Chicago, very largely by men and women of foreign extraction, are given government protection to every harbor on earth, why is it not equally advisable to protect the wage earners whose money, for sentimental reasons or otherwise, may be used in the purchase of bonds from the fatherland.

"The state department should frown upon the sale of foreign bonds in the United States when the money derived from these bonds is used for military promotion or for any other purpose than industrial expansion. New York bankers should be told that the government will publicly disapprove the flotation of foreign bonds of these countries which have not come to an agreement with us on their war debts."

A NEW CITY BUILT UP OF NEW cities—that is Chicago today. ¶ Go north, south, west, to the city limits and beyond. Where but recently stood rows of ancient homesteads and shabby stores on run-down streets are districts filled with fine homes or modern apartments, smart hotels, splendid office buildings, up-to-date stores—and there are also Banks. ¶ BANKS! How much influence have banks had in developing this amazing growth? One of America's best known business analysts says: "A good bank is second only to a post office for drawing trade to a neighborhood and building up a business center." ¶ Chicago's outlying banks have very properly been called Community Builders, so great has been their influence in attracting population to their neighborhoods, increasing land values, opening opportunities for business and in helping ambitious men and women make dreams of prosperity come true. ¶ The Neighborhood Bank has come to lend its help to the merchant, the manufacturer, the wage earner, the family—to exercise upbuilding influence. ¶ To be known at your Neighborhood Bank is to have friends who can advise you helpfully on your financial problems and who are glad to give you the benefit of their experience. ¶ If you haven't already done so, get acquainted at your Neighborhood Bank.

5 RECORDS FALL AT ARLINGTON AS FAVORITES WIN

Voshell Winner in Feature
Race on Card.

BY FRENCH LANE.

Five track records were lowered, another was established and the heavily backed choices marched home one after another in a day of spirited racing at Arlington Park yesterday.

Voshell, ridden by Jockey Lee Hardy, sizzled over five and a half furlongs in 1:05 2-5, a record, to win the sprint handicap which featured the program. A few minutes before Voshell, in one of the few good races he has run in almost a year, fairly burned up the track when he stepped six furlongs in 1:19 4-5, also a record. Voshell, ridden by Jockey V. Peterson, was an odds on choice and paid $4.74 for $2. Voshell's price was $4.58.

McTinkie Smothers Opposition. McTinkie smothered his opposition, winning by eight lengths. Voshell was in front throughout the stretch portion of his struggle and was two lengths to the good of the outsider, Patsy Jane and going away at the finish line.

Earlier in the afternoon, Ruth Gold, another short priced favorite, had sprinted seven furlongs in 1:25, taking a full second off the old mark. In the third race, George Groom, backed so stoutly that he was at less than 2 to 1, came with one of his famous stretch sprints and won handily. His time for the mile and seventy yards was 1:45 4-5, a new record. Exile's victory at a mile in 1:28 2-5 was the first record breaking performance.

It was the most ideal racing day of Arlington's brilliant fall season and

Hunters Rush Sports Stores as Ducks Near

BY BOB BECKER.

With the duck season at hand hunters are crowding around the counters of the sporting goods stores asking for heavy duck loads, as the tendency in this country has been and still is towards the use of increased amounts of powder and shot. Every hunter is familiar with this trend as the manufacturers are telling about reaching the birds sky high and stressing the long range killing qualities of guns and shells in no uncertain manner.

There is need for a word of caution in the present urge for heavy loads, as the average gunner does not thoroughly appreciate the fact that loads and the weight of gun in which the loads are going to be shot have to have a certain ratio. In other words, the load you use on any kind of game should be balanced with the weight of your gun. A heavy duck gun, for example, can handle heavy duck loads without pounding the gunner into a headachy condition. On the other hand, no hunter should shove those same heavy loads into a lightweight shotgun.

Here is a list of the whole situation: When you use shells producing more than 28 foot pounds recoil in your gun you're going to have an uncomfortable day in the field. A 7 1/2 pound shotgun shooting 3 1/2 drams of powder and 1 1/4 ounces of shot generates a recoil pressure of 25.4 foot pounds, which is plenty, as it's close to the limit. Three and one-half drams of powder with 1 1/4 ounces of shot in the same gun produce 31.08 foot pounds recoil, which is too much for comfort. An all day duck shoot with this combination is not recommended by anybody, not even the shell manufacturers. You seven pound gun users will be interested in the action of the shell shooting 3 1/2 drams and 1 1/4 ounces of shot. Its score is 27.9 foot pounds.

Taylor's Injury Sets Farr Fight Back Again to Nov. 8

Los Angeles, Cal., Oct. 25. — (AP) — After a second medical examination of Bud Taylor's right hand, injured in training last Sunday, Olympic auditorium officials announced today that the blonde Terre Haute battler would meet Johnny Farr, Cleveland featherweight, Nov. 8 instead of Nov. 1. The pair originally were scheduled to fight to night.

DUNDEE STOPS SANTIAGO IN 2D ROUND OF BOUT

Moran Forced to Quit in Seventh.

Mike Dundee of Rock Island hurdled another barrier in his path to the junior lightweight title last night when he won on a technical knockout over Armando Santiago in the second round of a scheduled ten round bout at the Ashland Boulevard auditorium. Dundee won the first round by out-boxing the Cuban. With the second round nearly over, Dundee whipped a left hook to Santiago's jaw and a right to the heart, sending the Cuban to the mat for a count of eight. The bell saved him, but he was unable to appear for the third round. Both weighed 130 pounds.

WOMEN'S GOLF BODY BARS 15 YEAR OLD GIRLS

Children should keep their place in golf as well as in other things, it was decided yesterday by the Women's Western Golf association at its annual meeting here. An amendment was adopted barring girls under 16 years of age from the major tournaments of the organization. Virtually all the officers were re-elected, headed by Mrs. Robert M. Cutting.

Mike M'Tigue Shows He Is Different Man

Mike M'Tigue, the former world's light heavyweight champion who meets Mickey Walker, holder of the middleweight title at the Coliseum on Tuesday night, arrived in Chicago yesterday morning.

The 175 pound champion pulled on the gloves in the afternoon with Jimmy Mahoney, local light heavyweight, for three rounds and then boxed three sessions with Eddie Mueller, another Chicago 175 pounder. Mike tore into his opponents and did not hesitate to trade.

M'Tigue is a changed fighter. Instead of being content to lay back and wait for opponents to lead, Mike now assumes the aggressive. He has developed a good left hand and he still has the punch in his right. Trainer Guy Dollings came west with the fighter and Manager Jimmy Johnston will arrive today.

Walker will arrive tomorrow morning. Billy Showers of St. Paul and Billy Bortfield of Milwaukee will be the principals in the main event of the boxing show at the Logan Square A. C., 2451 North Kedzie avenue tonight. They will box ten rounds to a decision and weigh 147 pounds at 3 o'clock this afternoon.

George LaMar, local middleweight, and K. O. White are ready for their ten round American bout, 21st street and Cottage Grove avenue tomorrow night. Promoter Fred Irlin has arranged five other bouts.

Way back in '41 William Corrigan, a grand uncle of former Judge Richard W. Clifford, decided to take a plunge in Chicago real estate and paid $100 cash for a tiny bit of dirt at what is now 333-34 North Michigan avenue. Some years later a four-story building was erected. It's been the home of a lake seamen's union and more recently used as a lodging house. The windows are grimy and from the boulevard it looks unimpressive.

The lodgers slip in and out from the lower level. Yesterday Judge Clifford, who inherited the property some years ago, leased it for ninety-nine years to an official of the M. M. Co., at a rental which gives him $200 a year. The value of the property, according to the city's assessment, is $12,462. The lot is a square, and the building is a small, two-story structure. The windows are grimy and from the boulevard it looks unimpressive.

What is to be done with the building? The answer remains a mystery. The lot is a square, and the building is a small, two-story structure. The windows are grimy and from the boulevard it looks unimpressive.

BANKER IS GUARD OF INVESTOR IN NEW FINANCE ERA

BY HARPER LEECH.

When it was announced the other day that a banking group had acquired a substantial interest in the company manufacturing the typewriter upon which this is being written, and that the founder may retire, another milestone in the progressive sale to the general investing public of formerly more closely held business was probably foreshadowed.

Yesterday the public was offered preferred shares in a great chocolate company, built to gigantic proportions within a lifetime—with extensions into sugar production in Cuba and with a public educated to associate the corporate name with a variety of candy, nay, even a certain kind of taste.

So marches the institutionalization and popularization of our sort of business after another. Despite mergers and consolidations of railroads, utilities and industrial the number of corporations "publicized" has increased so that the total of issues listed on the stock exchange has risen from 1,218 to 2,335 in 17 years and more to come.

Albert H. Wiggin is one of the banking group taking part in the typewriter transfer and prospective merger. He is one of the big figures in this new era of popularized ownership and ever increasing investment by the public. It is doubtful if Mr. Wiggin is anywhere near as well known to the general reading public as was some of the notable financial figures in the past when men looked bigger, because business was not so big.

A glance at Mr. Wiggin's list of directorships, like the similar list of other financial leaders, is an education in itself as to the widespread ramifications of modern banking, with its resultant effect of an intensified industrial point of view by bankers. That list includes two express companies, two rapid transit companies, two hydro electric power companies, a locomotive manufacturing company, an electric manufacturing company, a sugar refining company, light and power companies, fire and life insurance, safe deposit trust companies and savings banks, a copper company, a motor company, a paper company, a telegraph company, a mining company and then some.

There are no little groups able to own such a vast spread of interests. He is there as a quasi public representative of a vast army who have become investors through the operations of his own and other banks and securities companies. He can hardly interfere with

WALL STREET NOTES

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—(AP)—Price of our market securities recovered strength in today's dealings, and led by oil and utilities the general stock trend was higher. A buying of public utilities seemed to be concentrated on United Gas Improvement, which closed 3 points higher at 107 1/2, and American Gas and Electric, which closed a net gain of 3 1/2 to 100 1/2. Other active, United Light and Power, Associated Gas and Electric, closed 1/2 point higher at 89 1/2. Standard Oil of Indiana was down 1/2 point in the oil group, good buying interest also being given to Prairie Oil and Gas, Continental and National Transit. Gulf Oil which moved up yesterday, closed fractionally lower.

Industrial issues showed a mixed price movement, but John-Macville was among the strong stocks, closing more than 3 1/2 points higher at 118 1/2. Richmond Radiator Company also responded to buying orders, securing a net gain of 3 1/2 points on the day. Activity in the mining shares was centered chiefly on Newmont Mining which closed 3 points higher at 105 1/2. Considerable irregularity was apparent in the bond market. The widest change occurred in the foreign division, where prices in the main were reactionary. Loans of a point or more were recorded by several German municipal and industrial obligations, while French and Italian issues were rather quiet. Bond prices advanced more than a point.

International Paper issues were again brought to fair attention and American Writing Paper advanced a point. Wickwire-Spencer Steel Convertible 6s were conditionally strong on reports of recapitalization plans.

management in any effective manner except as he functions as an investor's guardian—and when he does that he acts for a great many against a very few. He has directorships covering a greater diversity of interests than the investment list of many rich men who seek the aid of trust companies and investment trusts to manage their holdings.

Such is one view of modern "banking capital"—the "banker on the board," about which so much mythology has arisen. The "banker on the board" today is an inevitable consequence of the situation of wealth.

FARM AND GARDEN

Thirty families that have joined that great army of home builders in Chicago's metropolitan area are going back to the old pioneer's practice of tucking away a full winter's supply of fruits and vegetables in their basements. Not much is said about the little storage rooms now being frequently included in the architect's plan but suburbanites are learning the value of having on hand a complete supply of apples, Irish potatoes, carrots, turnips, beets, cabbage, celery, pumpkins, squashes, sweet potatoes, onions and similar products usually grown in abundance within reach of every home owner in this territory.

Too many suburbanites, including those who have a fruit and vegetable storage room in their basement, limit their winter storage crops to pumpkins, squashes, onions and sweet potatoes. That is because from experience they have learned that these crops will keep in basements where there is a furnace which holds the temperature quite high during cold weather while many of the other crops soon wilt. These crops will keep best where the temperature stays around 55 degrees as it often does in the suburban home basements with furnaces.

The other crops mentioned require a temperature about 30 degrees lower than pumpkins and sweet potatoes. The temperature of a storage room under a suburban home may be held down by separating it from the furnace room with a double wall. Storage experts find that such crops as carrots, Irish potatoes, beets, turnips, apples, cabbage and celery keep best when the temperature is held down within six or eight degrees of the freezing point.

Only one investor in twenty actually receives the entire yield from his securities!

How 581 out of 612 investors discovered invisible and unsuspected losses

THE security holdings of 612 investors have been analyzed recently by our Investment Service Department. These lists ranged in amount from $10,000 to $2,000,000. The greater number of them included between $50,000 and $150,000 of stocks and bonds.

Only 31 of these investors—about one in twenty—were actually receiving the entire income which their securities should have yielded. Even the experienced investor seldom takes full advantage of the earning power of his holdings. Invisible, unsuspected losses levy a toll upon the majority of investors.

Investing is more than buying and holding securities. Call features, conversion privileges, tax position, and proper diversification are only a few of the many details which investors often overlook. Such oversight means a needless sacrifice of income.

Now, more than at any time in the past fifteen years, careful management is urgent.

10% more yearly income from their securities

Few investors realize the value of careful management of securities—until scientific analysis and supervision have been applied to their holdings, and have brought the unnecessary losses to light.

In many of the cases where our Investment Service Department reviewed investors' security holdings, and where the investor made use of our facilities for more effective control, there has been an increase of more than 10% in the yearly income from his securities. In other cases, improvements were made toward greater safety, reducing income with a view to forestalling future losses of larger amount than the temporary advantage of a high return.

Certain facts brought to light by these analyses will be of timely value to the majority of investors. For that reason they have been condensed into a booklet, "Investment Strategy," which gives an interesting cross-section of the essentials of efficient investing, based on actual experience.

How to avoid hidden losses

The ten principles of investment selection and security management outlined in this new booklet are designed to prevent the most costly errors of oversight found in a surprisingly high proportion of the 612 lists analyzed.

The investor owning $25,000 or more of securities will find "Investment Strategy" useful in avoiding the various hidden risks of investment loss, and in shaping his entire security program along sound, profitable lines.

We shall be glad to send you a copy of "Investment Strategy" upon request.

The Compton Investment Service Department, an outgrowth of forty years of experience, has proved of substantial value to investors. You are invited to make use of its facilities in the analysis of your own investment holdings.

Investors who do not need Tax-exemption Buy Municipal and Farm Loan Bonds for Safety and Diversification

OWNERSHIP of Municipal and Farm Loan bonds is by no means confined to those whose large incomes require them to favor tax-exempt securities.

In the lower income brackets—from $5,000 to $50,000—the latest available summary of income tax reports shows holdings of such bonds amounting to over $5 billion of dollars.

By comparison, those with incomes of $100,000 to $500,000 hold only a slightly greater amount—$75 million.

For safety and diversification it is often advisable to include high-grade Municipal and Farm Loan bonds in one's holdings, even though tax-exemption is not needed. This is particularly true at present when yields in the tax-exempt field compare very favorably with the net returns of many high-grade corporate bonds.

Our offerings of Municipal and Farm Loan bonds are at all times extensive and varied, affording opportunity for selections conforming to individual needs—whether the large blocks required by substantial investors or the smaller amounts of the moderate buyer.

Circulars describing any of the issues listed in the left will be sent upon request. Or, if you want a complete list of our current offerings, ask for circular CT-X.

GRAIN MARKETS
GAIN STRENGTH,
CLOSING HIGHER

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

Grain markets developed a much more optimistic attitude yesterday and prices advanced readily with a good deal of buying in evidence from the start. There was strong evidence of an overall condition, and also a great deal of short covering, but the news taken as a whole was more favorable to holders. Sellers of wheat were forced to protect themselves on the way up. Wheat closed well toward the top of its range, with December wheat at $1.34 1/2, with December wheat at $1.34 1/2, and March wheat at $1.34 1/2. Oats gained 1/4 cent to $1.10 1/2.

Year Frost in Argentina.

News from Winnipeg that frost was predicted in Argentina attracted considerable attention, as should the crop of that country be damaged it might cause a material change in the world's supply and demand position. Buenos Aires closed 1/4 cent higher, with December wheat at $1.34 1/2, and March wheat at $1.34 1/2.

Wheat practically a 50 per cent spread.

Wheat practically a 50 per cent spread between December wheat in Chicago and Liverpool it did not surprise the trade that some hard winter was worked by export via the Gulf. Liverpool gained 1/4 cent, showing more strength than expected. Farmers delivered 7,500,000 bushels of wheat at interior stations in the prairie provinces on Monday compared with 1,100,000 bushels on the same day last year. Winnipeg was 1/4 cent lower on October 26, and 1/4 cent higher on the deferred futures, while Minneapolis was 1/4 cent higher. Forecast was for generally fair in western Canada.

Foreigners After Corn.

Corn continued to show a firm attitude, and the trade is paying more attention to reports of export demand. At the Gulf and there were indications that some business had been put through. Buenos Aires closed 1/4 cent higher with December wheat at $1.34 1/2, and March wheat at $1.34 1/2. Cash and commission houses were on the buying side of oats and, an overall condition was disclosed. Part of the buying was credited to Winnipeg account. Foreign interests were said to have been persistent buyers of corn futures, and with wheat firm a higher level was easily attained.

WORLD'S GRAIN MARKET NEWS

Wheat has had a natural reaction after the severe break the last week, and traders said there was more rally than was really warranted. The local short interest was reduced, and a few of the large pit traders are working on the bull side. A factor that stood out toward the last was the leading price from the northwest, which appears on the bull side. Unseasonable was created by reports of frost in Argentina, which helped to lift the market a rally. Technically, the market was considered a sale on all good crops, although $1.31 for December is considered low enough by a good many operators.

There was some buying of corn and soybean by a large local operator, who said to have been long on corn for some time. A belief exists that corn is about enough for the time, but most traders expect to go slow, fearing private crop news due Nov. 1 may be bearish and moved by a report of similar character by the government. The disposition is to be on the side of short buyers.

"The same time we have explained the reason of adequate foreign buying and we believe to feel that the market will take a rally from the character and volume of the export trade," says Thomson & McKinnon. "Considering the interest way in which they have bought since the commencement of the season, it seems to us doubtful that they will change this policy and become short buyers."

This is just one specific illustration of the superiority of HEINEMANN Real Estate Securities. Through good times and bad, through periods of changing industrial and real estate conditions, HEINEMANN First Mortgage Real Estate Bonds and Mortgages have stood the test.

Though the interest rate (as liberal as money conditions permit) may not always be the highest, the margin of security is always wide enough to insure the safety of your Principal.

Gardner Motor Company tackles Chicago market using Tribune exclusively - "As a result our sales have increased remarkably"

says R.E. Gardner, Jr. president

President
Gardner
Motor Company

Circulation: 810,599 Daily
1,135,575 Sunday

The Tribune reaches more buyers in Chicago and suburbs than can be reached with any other medium. The next greatest circulation in the metropolitan area, daily or Sunday, falls 227,000 short of the circulation of The Sunday Tribune in Chicago and suburbs. On weekdays The Tribune's city and suburban circulation exceeds the total circulation of any other Chicago daily. Advertisers wanting to reach the greatest accessible number of prospective buyers can do so by using The Chicago Tribune.

IF any advertiser ever questions the power of Tribune advertising to sell merchandise immediately, let him read the letter at the left.

Gardner enters the Chicago market, the most highly competitive field in American business.

He doesn't spend millions using all known forms of advertising media. His advertising appropriation is a modest one—but he uses The Chicago Tribune exclusively! He spends all of his money where it works the greatest good, where it brings the largest return.

FROM THE LETTER: Deliveries increased 628% the first year; 42% the second . . . new car registrations increased 360% the first year, and the following year 51% . . . one of three cars to show increase every month of 1927 . . . Tribune's thorough coverage and great influence on dealers . . . cost of the campaigns moderate . . . large business increase enjoyed as exclusive Tribune advertisers.

Experience counts. The Gardner Motor Company has had the experience—and knows.

The tendency to concentrate Chicago newspaper advertising in The Tribune is logical and justifiable.

Don Juan, Newlywed, Still Hears Siren's Call—And Answers

BY DORIS BLAKE.

"Married a little over six months, I have discovered that my husband has been running around with another woman. I learned it from the woman herself. She called me up and just as much as demanded that I give him up to her."

"Do you think I can ever trust the man again? Heretofore I have trusted him implicitly and it seems that since this sordid fact has come to light I have a different feeling for him. I cannot restore my trust in him. He has given me his promise to go straight from now on, but I am fearful that he will not keep it. Lots."

To find one's mate disloyal after only six months of marriage is disheartening, to put it lightly, even considering the woman, who must be an unscrupulous creature in whose hands a weak young man is as the well known puppy. But into the lives of countless numbers of women comes, at one period or another, this problem of the other woman and how it is to be faced. Disillusioning as it is, appearing in the first year of marriage, I do not think it half so serious or difficult a problem to handle as when the woman of middle years faces it.

During the first year in the business of adjustment there are moments when each wonders if this is the man or the woman they imagined they were going to live happily ever after with. The woman disapproves the man just as often as he disappoints her. She runs home to mother to tell her troubles and he, if the temptation comes along at the moment, may pour his woes out into another woman's ears. It isn't big or it isn't little, but it is what any number of young couples find themselves up against. So, there is no use in becoming too dramatic over it, especially when the erring mate promises up and promises to be good and you care enough about him to want to see him keep his promise.

No woman, however, ever kept a man true to her by adopting the role of martyr over a lapse in his conduct. And certainly no woman ever profited by showing that her trust in her man is gone. The one and only way you can help him (and yourself) is to believe in him.

He Lost Her Ring.

"Dear Miss Blake: My boy friend and I exchanged rings a few weeks ago. Now he says he has lost my ring and doesn't even offer an apology but acts quite indifferent about it. I like him rather well, so please advise."

Tell him the ring meant a great deal to you and you wish he would make a thorough search for it. He should offer to replace it or ask that you accept his as a substitute.

The Quick Magic of Calcium!

Do you want a beautiful complexion this week? A skin that fairly sparkles? And color that is all your own? Then give your system just a little calcium. Calcium cleans away every impurity that keeps the skin sallow or dull. It keeps pores purged, and the outside clean. You'll feel and see the difference from the very first day you take a day, suggested Stuart calcium wafer!

A five-day test will prove to you very conclusively the system's need for calcium, and the decided benefit from these little wafers. Your druggist has them—the test size for pocket is 10c. Or the family size, 60c.

YOU AND YOUR CHILDREN

For Their Ultimate Good.

There are still people who think that the kind of physical care we take of our children nowadays is nonsense. They have lots of rather plausible arguments to advance against it and the time and the money we put into it. "Parents didn't use to make such a fuss over children's food when I was a child, and as far as I can see they got along just as well as they do now." Yet how often do we hear some one of the preceding generation say, "My mother had eight children, but only three of them lived to grow up." "And look at those children," said a man to me one day as we were going through an especially crowded and badly cleaned section of the city, "they play in the streets till all hours of the night, they're fed on anything that comes along, some of them live in cellars, and yet they seem to thrive. They certainly survive." Yes, they do survive, the ones we see. But we can't see the little headstones in the cemetery of those who don't.

But there is another sort of attack from the unbelievers in modern methods that can make us stop, look and doubt ourselves when we're tired or discouraged. "Look out of the window," says your friend as she sits with you in the kitchen while you are putting the children's potatoes in the oven to bake and standing guard over the spinach because you want to cook it in its own juice without burning it. "Look at those Jones children. Could you find a healthier lot in a day's walk—and is anybody going through all the motions you do to bring them up? They eat whatever happens to be easy or what the grownups like; they've never had a physical examination in their lives," and so she goes with a category of all they lack that you supply to your children.

Don't let that bother you. Perhaps the Jones children are healthy looking now. What you're doing is building not only for the present but for the future. You are laying corner stones—digging deep foundations for the future health of your children.

When you study the matter of feeding them, when you see that they have plenty of rest and sleep and outdoors, when you have them gone over by the doctor every once in a while—you are going deep and looking far ahead. You know, if Mrs. Jones doesn't, that many of the little of grown people—poor teeth, poor posture, foot trouble, bone diseases, nervous conditions, headaches, digestive troubles, skin troubles, and serious diseases of the vital organs are traceable to improper care in childhood.

Tribune Cook Book

BY JANE EDDINGTON.

Baked Prunes.

Perhaps prunes are used more variously than any other fruit, either fresh or dried. They are a staple on the breakfast table and prune juice may alternate with orange juice. Our breakfast table dish does not need to be an ordinary prune, and for holiday breakfast we may make it quite elegant by cooking large prunes slowly, draining, putting them in sugar, and then heating them in a little butter to melt the sugar. These are universally considered a delicious breakfast confection.

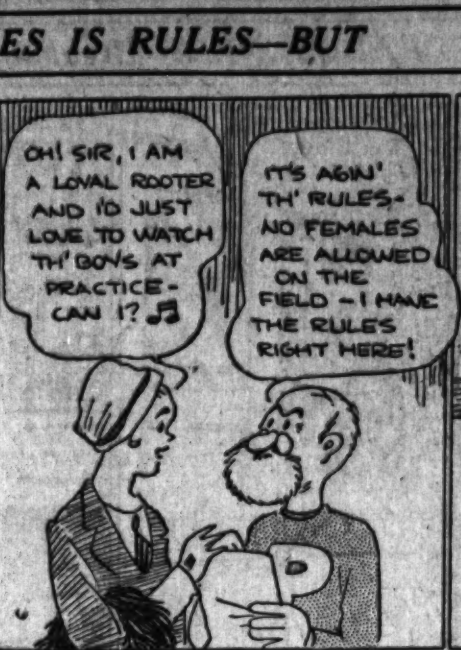

We know, also, that prunes plus have come to alternate with the national apple pie, and for two scores of years, perhaps, or more, the prune whip has been considered an extremely delicate dessert.

It is not difficult to find a way of cooking this fruit so it will not be drowned in an insipid liquid which requires sugar to make it edible, although it is hard to make a syrup with an insipid liquid and sugar. We consider the best prune cooking that which leaves the use of sugar entirely optional to the eater, and one way to do this is to bake the prunes by preparing them as follows: Wash medium sized prunes, put them into a covered casserole with water to half cover the prunes, then put them into a slow oven, or for Halloween, and cook them for two hours, or until the water has been entirely absorbed. Notice that no soaking is needed, although when prunes have become exceedingly dry they do need some water treatment before being baked thus.

When we have a two pound package of prunes, all fresh and moist, to half cover them only with water for the baking is the thing to do.

A prune garnish for a number of meats is rather pleasant as well as a prune flavor. A large fine prune which is not the least bit insipid is an excellent garnish to a slice of boiled ham. It is also fine with hot roasted meat, and it may be used as a garnish for a fruit salad of some sort, especially one of apple.

Dark prune confections at this season, or for Halloween, are quite suitable, and we can remember, if we choose, that the prune is always medicinal.

Plenty of Work for the Beaver These Days

by Couronne Lewis

NEW YORK.—[Special Correspondence.]—Working like a beaver is an expression especially applicable to the new coats. For here this time honored pet does its best to make garments color harmonies and to achieve some brand new effect of trimming. To be sure, there is nothing spectacular about beaver, but if you have some old pieces in the house don't let this fact militate against them. For in this year when the beige, tan and brown range is so much to the fore, beaver gains a new value. Also will it be seen in this imported model of Helin how little fur is necessary in these days when the glamour of your pet depends not on quantity but on the way in which it is applied.

This coat is of beige broadcloth and it is made to stimulate a jumper. The skirt is laid at the side in plaits and wide tucks in the jumper dispute their perpendicular course. A large self-covered button negotiates the side closing which is one of the most important aspects of the new coats. For the rest, the charm of this model relies upon standing collar, cuffs and rever of beaver. Especially interesting and unusual is the way in which the rever folds over from a band stressing the asymmetrical line.

Some of the new coats of today use tapers and others employ circular flounces. Many introduce the bolero in some new effect—especially that with one sided emphasis—and an equal number rely upon some cape-ric for their novelty. The coat with a shoulder cape functioning only at the right or the left is now a familiar apparition, and so is that other where the cape describes a slanting line in the back.

Caught Fiddling.
While I was in the lobby of a downtown hotel one afternoon I saw an acquaintance whom I cared little for, and who, unfortunately, came forward and started a conversation, incidentally asking me to go along shopping with her.

In order to get away from her I made the excuse that I had come to visit a friend, and mentioned the first name that came into my head. "I'm

A FRIEND IN NEED

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

Most Generous Offer.

"Can you place these things: a boy's moving picture machine, a Scout bugle, an imported Austrian cornet, and a steel fishing pole and reel? The cornet I will give only to some one taking music lessons. Mrs. M. P."

Here's a varied and interesting offer—a wealth of gifts for our corner.

D. M.

Sorry, I was just going up to see Mrs. Julius Green when you came.

"O," she returned, enthusiastically, "Mrs. Green is out in my car this minute and is going shopping with me. Come along. Isn't this nice?"

Imagine my chagrin as I followed her out to her car and explained to a perfect stranger about my notorious friend of the same name.

Needless to say, I went shopping—a fitting punishment for my fib.

D. M.

As a family doctor at Monticello, Illinois, the whole human body, not any small part of it, was Dr. Caldwell's practice. More than half his "calls" were on women, children and babies. They are the ones most often sick. But their illnesses were usually of a minor nature—colds, fevers, headaches, biliousness—and all of them required first a thorough evacuation. They were constipated.

In the course of his 47 years' practice (he was graduated from Rush Medical College back in 1875), he found a good deal of success in such cases with a prescription of his own containing simple laxative herbs with psyllin. In 1892 he decided to use this formula in the manufacture of a medicine to be known as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, and in that year his prescription was first placed on the market.

The preparation immediately had as great a success in the drug stores as it previously had in his private practice. Now, the third generation is using it. Mothers are giving it to their children who were given it by their mothers. Every second of the working day someone somewhere is going into a drug store to buy it. Millions of bottles of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin are being used a year.

Its great success is based on merit, on repeated buying, on one satisfied user telling another. There are thousands of homes in this country that are never without a bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, and we have got ten many hundreds of letters from grateful people telling us that it helped them when everything else failed.

Every drug store sells Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. Keep a bottle in your home—where many live, someone is sure to need it quickly.

We would be glad to have you prove at our expense how much Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin can mean to you and yours. Just write "Syrup Pepsin," Monticello, Illinois, and we will send you a prepaid FREE SAMPLE BOTTLE.
